Sir,

Admiralty, 15 February 1856.

I AM commanded by my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty to request that you will state to the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury, that the subject of dredging and deepening the Harbours at Malta has been brought under the consideration of this Board, both by reports of the Admiral-Superintendent of Her Majesty's dockyard there, and by the representations of the Governor of the island, forwarded through the Secretary of State for Colonial Affairs, who concurs in the necessity of some measures being taken in the matter.

It appears that these harbours are gradually diminishing in depth and in extent from the deposit of mud, and that Mr. Nicol, a contractor, has made a favourable offer to undertake its removal, provided it be done on a large scale; the annual expense is estimated at from 4,000 £. to 6,000 £.

My Lords, impressed with the great importance of preserving these Harbours in an efficient state for the use of the Royal Navy and the mercantile marine, would propose that one-half of the expense of dredging should be borne by the Naval Department, and that a sum of from 2,000 £. to 3,000 £. be taken in any future Estimate accordingly, upon the understanding that the Government of Malta will devote a similar sum to the work.

In laying this communication before the Treasury Board, I have to request that you will move them to favour my Lords with their sanction to this expenditure at their earliest convenience.

I am, Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

James Wilson, Esq., M.P.,

Sir,

Treasury Chambers, 30 March 1856.

WITH reference to your letter of the 15th ultimo, relating to the necessity for dredging and deepening the Harbours of Malta, I am commanded by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to acquaint you, for the information of the Lords of the Admiralty, that my Lords are pleased to sanction an estimate being proposed to Parliament for 2,500 £., for dredging and deepening the Harbours of Malta, on the understanding that the island shall furnish at least an equal sum for this service.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

Secretary of the Admiralty.

EXTRACT from MINUTE of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, dated the 2d April 1856.

"DIRECTOR of Works reports, that without submitting a fresh estimate, he can probably defray this expense from the aggregate vote.

"Inform Colonial Office that my Lords are prepared to expend the sum of 2,500 £. in the current financial year, on the proposed dredging the Harbours at Malta, it being distinctly understood that the Government of that island is to contribute at least an equal sum to the works."

Sir,

Admiralty, 5 September 1856.

I AM commanded by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty to acquaint you, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, that my Lords have found that many of the Gun Boats, which were built with great rapidity for the pressing service of the late war, have been built of green wood, and are likely to be exposed to great damage by premature decay, unless they can be taken out of the water, and their timbers exposed to a thorough draught of air.

My Lords were in hopes that some temporary means of providing for this object might have been discovered at a moderate expense, postponing till next year any measures for providing any permanent place where they could be drawn up and kept on dry land.

My Lords have, however, come to the conclusion, after very careful consideration of the subject, that it will not only be easier, but much more economical in the end, to commence what will be a place for ultimately keeping such Gun Boats as may not be required afloat; and as there is a piece of ground at Gosport, belonging to the Naval Department, exceedingly well adapted for this purpose, my Lords request that you will move the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to sanction the works being undertaken, which are necessary for this object, although no provision is made for them in this year's Estimates.

The probable sum to be expended may amount to 30,000 l., as the most expensive part of the work is laying the railways for drawing up and moving the Gun Boats to their places, and constructing an adequate boundary wall and roof to secure the vessels when drawn up from the danger of fire.

My Lords have found unexpected difficulty in the purchase of land at Chatham, for which a Vote was taken in No. 11, this year, and the sum for which, probably, cannot be expended within the year; so that there will be nearly as much money not expended of that Vote as will cover the proposed expenditure, and certainly such will be the case on other Votes.

My Lords desire me to state that the expense could not be ascertained in time to take a Vote, and it is of pressing necessity.

I am, Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

(signed) R. Osborne.

I AM commanded to acquaint you, for the information of the Lords of the Admiralty, that in consideration of the very pressing circumstances stated in your letter of the 5th instant, the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury are pleased to sanction the proposed expenditure of (30,000 l.) thirty thousand pounds, in providing shelter for Gun Boats at Gosport.

Sir,

Admiralty, 12 November 1856.

I AM commanded by my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty to acquaint you, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, that it has become necessary to effect certain alterations to No. 5 Slip, in Her Majesty's Dockyard at Deptford, at an estimated cost of 2,054*l.* 9*s.*

As no provision has been made in the current year's Estimates for this work, I am to request that you will move their Lordships to sanction the expenditure in question, which will be charged to the Aggregate Vote, No. 11.

Sir,

Treasury Chambers, 17 November 1856.

WITH reference to your letter of the 12th instant, requesting the sanction of the Board to an expenditure of 2,054*l.* 9*s.*, for effecting certain alterations in No. 5 Slip, in Her Majesty's Dockyard at Deptford, I am commanded by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to acquaint you, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, that my Lords are pleased to sanction this expenditure, provided the work could not be deferred until the next Session of Parliament without serious public inconvenience.

I am, Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

The Secretary of the Admiralty.

Sir,

Admiralty, 11 October 1856.

HER MAJESTY having graciously signified Her intention of granting a Medal to the Officers and Men of the Royal Navy and Royal Marines employed in the Baltic Campaigns during the late War, and directions having been given accordingly to the Master of the Mint to prepare the Medals, I am commanded by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty to request that you will acquaint the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, that the Secretary of State for the War Department has informed my Lords that the Master of the Mint has applied for an immediate advance of 10,000 l. to meet the expense.

The estimated cost of the Medals is 13,412 l. 5 s., of which sum the amount of 10,000 l. is at once required.

My Lords, in the Estimates submitted to Parliament, have not taken any Vote for this purpose, Her Majesty's most gracious intention not having been signified at the time they were prepared.

As it is estimated that there will be a large saving on the aggregate Naval Votes, my Lords request the sanction of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to the appropriation of the sum of 10,000 l. for the purpose above specified out of such estimated surplus.

I am, Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

James Wilson, Esq., M.P.,

Sir,

Treasury Chambers, 13 October 1856.

IN reply to your letter of the 11th instant, requesting the sanction of this Board to the appropriation of ten thousand pounds (10,000 £), which sum the Master of the Mint has applied for as an immediate advance towards defraying the expense of the Baltic Medals, from the estimated surplus on the aggregate Naval Vote, I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to request that you will state to the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, that this Board authorises the sum required for this service to be charged to the Vote for Miscellaneous Services for the current year, and to be defrayed out of any available surplus on that Vote, or, in the absence of any such surplus, from the surplus upon some other Vote.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

The Secretary of the Admiralty.

Sir,

Admiralty, 17 October 1856.

I AM commanded by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty to acquaint you, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, that the Commissioners of Customs have informed my Lords that the Apartments at present occupied by the Comptroller-general of Coast Guard and his Establishment at the Custom-house are required for the purposes of that Department, and my Lords have made arrangements for delivering up possession of them accordingly to the Commissioners of Customs at Christmas next.

My Lords deem it desirable that the Comptroller-general of the Coast Guard and his staff should be brought to the immediate vicinity of Whitehall, and, with this view, propose to purchase the unexpired term of the lease of the house, No. 18, Spring Gardens, recently tenanted by the Duke of Somerset.

The lease has 14 years to run, subject to a ground-rent to the Crown of 105 £. per annum, and is offered to my Lords at a sum of 2,000 £, which is deemed moderate by the usual advisers of this department.

The valuation of the fixtures will probably not exceed 200 £; my Lords therefore request the sanction of the Lords of the Treasury for this purchase.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

James Wilson, Esq., M.P.,

SIR W. J. HOOKER'S REPORT ON KEW GARDENS, &c.

Referred to on page 14.

Sir,

Royal Gardens, Kew, 31 December 1856.

IF I could say last year that I felt great satisfaction in preparing my Report to be laid before Parliament on the Royal Gardens and Pleasure Grounds of Kew, I am able now to make this assertion still more confidently. The year just closed is one in which (thanks in a great measure to your suggestions, relative to the improved keeping of the Walks and Lawns, and a great increase of Flower Beds) the Gardens have become, at a very trifling cost, more attractive to the Public; which is proved by the continually augmented number of Visitors, for whose gratification and instruction the establishment is, in a great measure, so liberally maintained.

It is now 16 years since the Royal Gardens began to be enlarged, improved, and thrown open to the Public. Our documents show the annual amount of Visitors during those years to be as follows, viz.:

Years.	Visitors.
1841 - - - - -	9,174
1842 - - - - -	11,400
1843 - - - - -	13,492
1844 - - - - -	16,114
1845 - - - - -	28,139
1846 - - - - -	46,573
1847 - - - - -	64,282
1848 - - - - -	91,708
1849 - - - - -	137,865
1850 - - - - -	179,627
1851 (the year of the Great Exhibition) - - - - -	327,900
1852 - - - - -	231,210
1853 - - - - -	331,210
1854 - - - - -	339,164
1855 - - - - -	313,818
1856 - - - - -	344,140

Thus a progressive increase since 1841 may be seen, only broken by the sudden augmentation of 1851 (when, in addition to the vast numbers who visited London from the Country Districts, an influx of Foreigners came to England), and by the reduction of 1855, which was due in part to the War and to the unfavourable Spring and early part of Summer. The weather, of course, affects the attendance at these Gardens, which are situated at some distance from London; but, during last year, though there was a greater than average number of wet days, the Visitors were 30,322 in excess of 1855, and considerably in advance of all previous years.

The best attended months were—

June - - - - -	77,022
July - - - - -	81,616
August - - - - -	73,449

The worst months were—

January - - - - -	1,446
February - - - - -	2,818
December - - - - -	1,232

The largest number on week days proved to be—

May 12th (Whit-Monday) - - - - -	3,160
May 29th (Declaration of Peace) - - - - -	2,288
June 30th (Monday) - - - - -	2,287
July 24th (Thursday) - - - - -	2,261

The greatest number on Sundays was—

June 29th - - - - -	12,891
July 6th - - - - -	12,375
August 3d - - - - -	12,957

December stands lowest upon the list, the average number on its week days being a fraction above 32, and the average of its four Sundays only 94.

The maximum of any day was on August 3d, when there were nearly 13,000; a greater number by 1,000 than on any day in 1855, and very much higher than any in former years.

In regard to the conduct of Visitors, no case has occurred to demand the serious interference of the Police. The chief complaints arise from smoking and eating luncheons, &c. &c. (provisions being smuggled in contrary to the regulations exhibited at the entrances), the consequent littering of the Lawns and Walks with waste paper, refuse food, and other matters; and, on some occasions, holiday parties are inclined to be rude; but, on the whole, the conduct of Visitors has been satisfactory.

My Report for 1855 was so full and retrospective that I may now limit myself to noticing what has been done during the last 12 months, glancing at the same time at our prospects for the future. This great establishment may be regarded in a two-fold view.

1st. As a place for Healthful Recreation and Instruction.

2d. In connexion with the Science of Botany.

1. AS A PLACE FOR HEALTHFUL RECREATION AND INSTRUCTION.—All the Walks (5½ miles in extent) which intersect the 75 acres of the Botanic Garden, have been freshly gravelled, and many new Paths of great beauty are being opened through the Woods in the Pleasure Grounds; gravel being abundant there, these improvements have cost very little. Moreover, the gravel is taken from a waste piece so situated relatively to the Thames that the excavated place might be filled with tidal water. Such a lake has long been deemed a desideratum in these Ornamental and Extensive Grounds, and is the more required now that the adjacent River, once so attractive, does but present, especially at low tide, long banks of filthy mud washed up from the Metropolis.

The portion adjacent to, but separated from, the Pleasure Grounds, and which was reserved by Lord Seymour under the Appellation of the "Queen's Garden" (when Her Majesty generously ceded the Pleasure Grounds to the Public), has been much improved and adorned with Trees and Shrubs.

In accordance with the instructions you gave me, the Flower Beds have been greatly increased. Everybody knows how beautiful an effect is produced, when a very spacious garden, with much lawn, is diversified with large beds cut out in the grass, and each filled with peculiarly coloured flowers harmoniously arranged. During the past spring 28 new beds were formed, requiring altogether 18,190 plants to stock them; and at the present moment 22 similar additional Flower Beds are in progress, and 9,000 Ornamental Out-door Plants are grown for the summer decoration of the Lawns. The several clumps of Shrubs and Evergreens have been improved or enlarged, and new Flowering Shrubs, especially Roses, have been planted.

There has been no addition to our Hothouses and Greenhouses during the year now closed; on the contrary, we have sustained a reduction of accommodation; for one out of the only two remaining old smoke-flued Greenhouses (both in a most ruinous condition) has been razed to the ground, in the hope that a new large Conservatory would be immediately erected.

The general collection of Plants has undergone considerable alteration, with the view to rendering them more agreeable to the eye and more instructive, by bringing together, where their respective sizes will allow, the different specimens belonging to one and the same natural family. Thus, all the Bananas, the different kinds of Figs, the Acacias, the Zamias, the Ferns, the Palms, &c. &c. now form groups which, with their names attached to them, are more easily recognised by visitors, who come in quest of particular kinds.

The Garden, too, has received considerable accessions during the last 12 months. Our books show that 21 Wardian Cases of Useful and Ornamental Plants have been imported by us; and we have transmitted 14 cases to our correspondents abroad, and to foreign colonies (chiefly our own). This does not include the numerous closed boxes of more hardy Plants and Seeds which have been mutually exchanged. Many National Establishments, the Marlborough House and other Schools of Design, and various Gentlemen delivering Lectures at the Society of Arts, &c. &c., have been liberally supplied with specimens or with information for the illustration of their subjects.

Our original Nursery in the Pleasure Grounds has derived great advantages from our excellent Correspondents in the United States, who have sent us numerous hardy Plants of that country, California, &c.

I briefly mentioned, in my last Report, that by your directions a New Nursery was formed in 1855, its object being to supply the several Metropolitan Parks with Trees, principally English Elms, and Plane Tree (Platanus acerifolia). During the last 12 months the stock for the ground ground has been completed, so that during this winter a very considerable number of Trees has been transmitted to the Parks. Previous to the establishment of this Nursery there was not any supply whatever for the London Parks; but if the stock is kept up here, as it will be in accordance with your directions, there will always be an ample supply of fine healthy and well-rooted Trees at command for planting out in those places of public resort of which you have the charge. We have had also the satisfaction of sending from our own original Nursery between 4,000 and 5,000 Ornamental Trees and Shrubs to the new suburban Park of Battersea, which will quickly give a clothed appearance to that fine piece of ground.

NEED OF A NEW CONSERVATORY.

Above I have alluded to the hope of a New Conservatory being speedily erected for the accommodation of those noble Chilian, Mexican, Australian, and Norfolk Island Conifers, and the fine Trees and large Shrubs of temperate climates, for the possession of which the Royal Gardens of Kew have long been celebrated, but of which I must now speak almost in the past tense. Some of them have suffered beyond recovery within the last few years; others may yet be restored by the needful amount of space, light, and temperature being afforded. Many have completely outgrown the houses hitherto devoted to them, and the best of them have been decapitated to keep them under the roof of the old Orangery, which they now chiefly occupy.

In my Report for 1855 I stated the imperative necessity of providing a structure which should meet the wants of those truly noble specimens, and I now desire to urge the subject upon your attention.

We do not now require the same heavy pecuniary grants that we did for 1856-7, and I feel certain that no one can inspect the plants in question, and the building wherein they are now stowed away (rather than preserved), without being convinced that immediate steps must be taken to prevent their destruction.

I wish also to mention, as a further proof of the need of the House in question, that, during the 16 years of my directorship, no addition of any consequence has been made for the accommodation of these kinds of plants. What is really required to render the Gardens complete is, as much accommodation for the large Trees and Shrubs of temperate climates as was granted for Tropical Plants 12 years ago in the erection of our noble Palm House, which is the pride and glory of our Gardens; and then, and not till then, we shall have attained to all that this great National Establishment ought to be. A Botanic Garden is not valuable, as was once thought, in proportion mainly to the number of species of Plants which it contains, but to their usefulness and beauty. There ought to be a selection, rather than a collection. Many Plants that were formerly considered worthy of cultivation, simply because of their rarity (being neither ornamental, nor of any known utility to man), are now properly confined, in the state of dried specimens, to the Herbarium, or Hortus Siccus, where they are of great importance as subservient to the wants of the Botanist; and in this department ample provision is made in the Royal Gardens, as will presently be noticed.

It is perfectly true that the Conservatory which I now desire would cost a very considerable sum of money, but I do not believe that it would entail so large an expenditure as the Palm House, in relation to which various matters had to be considered, and several items were brought into account which would not be necessary in a structure for more hardy Trees and Plants. The price of glass is also materially reduced since 1844, when the Palm House was erected.

The Museum of Economic Botany comes under the present head or category, viz., a place for instruction; and, happily, all the provisions for the new additional Museum and its fittings were included in the last two years' Estimates, and granted. My Report for 1855 announced that the walls were then (December) erected, and that the roof would in a few weeks be covered in. This important building is now completed, and the walls are so dry, that the cabinet makers are pledged to have one of the floors fitted with cabinets during the ensuing month (January 1857), and the two other floors during March; and I trust that all the vast Collections will be duly arranged before the visiting season shall have fully commenced. The amount of highly interesting and useful vegetable products in store for filling the cases cannot fail to gratify the public, and to instruct the merchant, manufacturer, &c. This Museum of Economic Botany, the first ever formed, has set an example which is already wisely followed in many European capitals, and in our colonies, &c.; to some of the most important of these Establishments, we have had the good fortune to contribute.

2. THE SCIENTIFIC DEPARTMENT.—While it is gratifying to see these noble Gardens employed for healthful recreation, it must not be forgotten that they continue to be, as once they exclusively were, a Scientific Establishment, and one which gave rise to the several Editions of the Hortus Kewensis, by the Messrs. Aiton and others, the Delineations of Exotic Heaths

(the drawings by Francis Bauer), the Monograph of Strelitzia, by Mr. Ker, &c., and what is still more important, the splendid and unique series of Botanical Drawings, made under the auspices of Sir Joseph Banks, by Francis Bauer, Botanical Painter to his Majesty George the Third, which are deposited in the British Museum. Still, it is but recently that an Herbarium, or Hortus Siccus, has been attached to the Establishment. It, and a Botanical Library (part the property of the Public, and part the private property of the Director, and therefore kept distinct, though both are made available, under certain restrictions, to the Public use), are, in combination, second to none in the world for magnitude and value. Her Majesty has graciously permitted that these collections should be temporarily deposited in the House at Kew, formerly in the occupation of his late Majesty the King of Hanover; where, under due regulations, all persons who desire information on Plants or their Products have the advantage of studying.

The utility of such an Herbarium, and its importance in superseding the cultivation, at great expense, of the less ornamental plants, is now universally felt and allowed, and it only remains for me briefly to point out some of the many facilities it offers for a knowledge of the Vegetable Kingdom, through the Naturalists, English and Foreigners, who during the year just closed have been indebted to its collections and books for their working materials, in the preparation of publications of great scientific value. Many of these gentlemen have taken up their abode at Kew for weeks together, for the object in question.

1. Dr. Weddell, of Paris, for his work on Urticacæ (or the Nettle Family), a tribe of plants which are highly important in the amount of fibre which they yield; equally available for cordage, clothing, and paper making.

2. Dr. Caspary, of Bonn, for his work on Nymphæacæ (Water Lilies).

3. Dr. Schott, of Vienna, for his beautiful and costly book on the Aroideæ, published by the Imperial Government of Austria.

4. The Rev. R. T. Lowe, late of Madeira, for his complete "Flora of the Island of Madeira."

5. J. E. Howard, Esq., for his valuable Illustrations of the Cinchonas (Medicinal Barks).

6. Daniel Hanbury, Esq., for his several Memoirs on the Plants, yielding Gums, Resins, Drugs, &c., published in the Pharmaceutical Journal.

7. Dr. Hooker (Assistant Director in the Garden); "Summary of the Botany of the Arctic Regions," derived from the collections made in the several Polar Voyages in search of Franklin—the "Flora of New Zealand" completed, "Flora of Tasmania," begun and considerably advanced. The last two works are published under the auspices of the Lords of the Admiralty.

8. Dr. Lindley, for his learned work on Orchideous Plants.

9. Dr. Seemann, for the "Botany of the Surveying Voyage of Her Majesty's ship Herald."

10. Dr. Braun, Professor of Botany at Berlin, for his work on Characæ.

11. The Rev. Professor Henslow, for his excellent Diagrams, prepared by desire of Lord Stanley of Alderley, President of the Board of Trade, for the use of the National Schools.

12. G. Bentham, Esq., the munificent donor of his extensive Herbarium and Library to the Royal Gardens, the most active Botanist of the present day. Mr. Bentham is not only daily engaged in the Herbarium, with a view to publishing new and rare Plants, but he renders important and gratuitous services, by the improvements and additions which he continues to make to the Public Herbarium, as if it were still his own property.

13, and lastly, I may mention the continuation of the "Botanical Magazine," a book especially devoted to figures and descriptions of the new and fine Plants of Kew, and the "Kew Garden Miscellany," both monthly publications, conducted by the Director.

Very large collections of duplicate Herbarium Specimens have been liberally distributed to Botanists and Botanical Professors, in the different Universities of the Continent, and sent to the new Museum at Calcutta, and equally liberal returns have been received.

I have, &c.
(signed) W. J. Hooker, Director.

To the Right Honourable Sir Benjamin Hall, Bart., M.P.,
First Commissioner of Her Majesty's Works, &c. &c. &c.

(A.)

Sir,

Admiralty, 4 August 1856.

I AM commanded by my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty to request you will lay before the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury the accompanying copies of reports from Commander Skinner, harbour-master and superintendent of the packet service at Holyhead; Mr. Rendel, the engineer of the new Harbour; and Captains Washington and Vetch, of this office, on the subject of extending the Breakwater, now in course of construction, by placing the Pier head about 500 feet beyond the position previously assigned for its construction; and I am to request you will state to their Lordships that my Lords are of opinion that the increasing demand for accommodation at the Port renders it desirable in their opinion to carry out the proposed extension of the works; and from the state of the works at the present moment it would be most disadvantageous not to continue from where the workmen now are, and in the course of the present year.

The expense of this additional work, which will add very materially to the accommodation of the Harbour, is estimated at about 102,000 £. The vote will admit of the work being proceeded with at once; and if the Lords of the Treasury concur in this proposition, my Lords will order the plans and estimates to be prepared without delay, with a view to their being submitted to Parliament in the usual course.

J. Wilson, Esq., M. P., &c. &c. &c.

I am, &c.
(signed) B. Osborne.

(B.)

As to FURTHER EXTENSION of the NORTH BREAKWATER of the NEW HARBOUR.

Sir,

Holyhead, 12 July 1856.

IN reply to your letter of the 10th instant, calling upon me to report more fully, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, whether from the increased number of vessels seeking refuge in the roadstead or anchoring in the Harbour, there is a necessity for the additional accommodation and consequent expenditure suggested by me in my letter, No. 168, of the 6th ultimo, I have to state that more vessels have anchored in the new Harbour during the last half year, ending on the 30th ultimo, than in any similar period previously.

I enclose a return of each six months since the 1st January 1852, when the Harbour came under my charge. Few vessels have as yet made use of the roadstead, and it is not desirable that it should be much used at present, as in case of extensive injury to the piling and staging, such as occurred in the gale of the 7th and 8th instant, the roadstead is strewn with masses of heavy timber dangerous to shipping; but I have no doubt whatever that the roadstead will be more generally used hereafter by large vessels, if not by small, than the Harbour itself; for whenever the new Irish mail packets, which are to be of an increased size and speed, commence running, and that the American packets land and embark their mails here, a large portion of the new Harbour, as well as the entrance to it all along the North Breakwater, will have to be kept clear for those vessels to make their sweep in and out, thereby taking considerable space both from the Harbour and the roadstead, and rendering it necessary to remove all vessels that may have anchored within and along that line, which annoyance they will be able to avoid by anchoring in the roadstead if it be sufficiently sheltered, and which it was not in the late gale, which blew (when at its height) from the N.N.W.

It is, therefore, with these prospects in view, that I recommend the extension of the Breakwater to the line drawn from the Lighthouse of the old Harbour to the west end of the Skerries, thereby gaining about 100 acres of area and increased shelter to the roadstead at a moderate expense now, but which could not be obtained hereafter for ten times the amount.

I am, &c.

HOLYHEAD NEW HARBOR.

8, Great George-street, Westminster,
2 July 1856.

Sir,

As directed by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, in your letter of the 17th ultimo, I have now the honour to submit the following remarks on the proposal of Commander Skinner, the harbour-master at Holyhead, to extend the North Breakwater of the new harbour in the manner recommended in his letter to their Lordships of the 6th ultimo, a copy of which, with his original plan, accompanied their Lordships' instructions.

There can be no doubt that the proposed extension of the North Breakwater for a length of 500 feet would increase not only the area of the roadstead which it shelters, but also the degree of shelter which it affords, especially to the old Harbour.

At the same time this increase might be obtained without such shifting of the head of the Breakwater as would injuriously affect the courses of access and departure; and Commander Skinner is quite correct in stating, that if any extension is to be made, an order for the same must be given very shortly, because of the advanced state of the work embraced under the present contract.

To enable their Lordships to consider the question, I have only to recall their attention to the fact which led to the first extension of the North Breakwater in 1854.

This was, that the use then made of the New Harbour was so great as to occasion fears lest, after the transference of the Packet service to it, it would be found too small for the accommodation of the vessels employed in that service, and the general trade together, without danger arising to both.

I was therefore directed to submit a plan by which an increased extent of accommodation might be afforded to the general trade, and the anticipated interference with the Packet service thereby avoided.

I accordingly considered the matter very fully, and recommended that the North Breakwater should be extended, in a north-east direction, for a length of 2,000 feet, so as to convert about 300 acres of the deep water portion of Holyhead Bay, lying between the entrances to the old and new harbours, into a sheltered roadstead, and at the same time increase the quiet of both harbours, and the ease of entering them in bad weather.

This suggestion was based on the fact, that the greater portion of the vessels which resorted to the new harbour did so, by reason of the contrary winds which they are very liable to encounter off Holyhead, and that for their accommodation a safe roadstead was preferable to an enclosed harbour.

Their Lordships concurred in this view, and ordered the North Breakwater to be extended as proposed 2,000 feet. It was at the same time fully understood that the plan which I proposed admitted of further extension, without the sacrifice of any executed works, should it be found, during the progress of the extension then sanctioned, that an addition to it was desirable.

Under these circumstances, I presume their Lordships will require to be satisfied that the increased shelter which the addition now proposed to be made to the Breakwater will afford is, or is likely to be, wanted for the accommodation of the shipping passing up and down the Irish Channel.

Upon this point, I have no doubt Commander Skinner will be able to give satisfactory explanations to their Lordships, and I have only to add that, estimated at the same rates as are given in the contract for the extension now in course of execution, the addition recommended by Commander Skinner would cost not more than 102,000 l.

HOLYHEAD BREAKWATER EXTENSION.

HAVING carefully considered Commander Skinner's Statements relative to the extension of Holyhead North Breakwater and Mr. Rendel's report thereon, and bearing in mind the great increase in the number of vessels that already resort to this Harbour as a Refuge, even in its present unfinished state, (namely, from 514 in the year 1852 to 2,500 in 1856,) we are of opinion that an extension of the North Breakwater for a length of 500 feet, under all the circumstances of the case, would be a prudent measure, and one of great public benefit, in addition to the special advantage to the shipping of Liverpool and of the Irish Sea.

Such an extension would add largely to the value of the Harbour, both as a Refuge 38—I.—Sess. 2. D 3 + and and a Packet Harbour, for many of the vessels which only seek shelter during an adverse gale would anchor in the Roadstead so formed, leaving the Inner Harbour free for the ingress and egress of the Steam Mail Packets.

It is already manifest that all available space will be required, and more if it could be obtained. Few persons could have foreseen when the works were begun, the enormous increase that has taken place in the shipping of the United Kingdom, or the Harbour, probably, might have been designed on a larger scale; it is as well, perhaps, that it was not so, as the plan of an Inner Harbour and a sheltered Roadstead in which the present works have resulted, (omitting the inward bend,) seems the most perfect form that could have been given to them.

The only objection that might be urged to an extension of the north pier in a nautical point of view, is the narrowing the entrance between the Pier Head and the Clipera Rocks on the east, but as this passage will still remain about one mile wide, no difficulty can arise in taking it under any circumstances of wind or weather.

We are, &c.

COPY of a TREASURY MINUTE, dated October 10, 1856.

WRITE to the Secretary of the Admiralty, that my Lords having carefully considered the proposal of Commander Skinner, that the North Breakwater now constructing at Holyhead should be extended 500 feet further than originally intended, by which an additional area of 100 acres of still water will be obtained, and having reference to the rapid increase in the number of ships resorting to the Harbour, and the numerous and important uses to which the partial experience already attained shows it will hereafter be applied, are pleased to sanction the proposed extension at the present time, when it can be accomplished at a comparatively small cost, and to authorise the application to this service of so much of the Vote of last Session for Holyhead Harbour, as will be required for the current year, due provision being made for the additional work in the next year's Estimates.

The Estimates for this Office since 1848 have been as follows; viz.

1848-49 - - -	£. 302,362	1853-54 - - -	£. 216,420
1849-50 - - -	277,762	1854 55 - - -	431,960
1850-51 - - -	260,877	1855-56 - - -	360,470
1851-52 - - -	226,566	1856-57 - - -	458,275
1852-53 - - -	216,509	1857-58 - - -	412,875

It will be seen from the above statement that the Estimate for this Office has increased from 216,420*l.* in 1853 to 458,275*l.* in 1856, and to 412,875*l.* in 1857; but a very considerable portion of this increase is apparent only, and does not really involve any increase of expenditure.

I. Previously to 1854, for example, the cost of printing and lithographing the specifications of patents was defrayed by the patentees, but at the time specified a new system was adopted by which fees were imposed on patentees that were believed to be more than sufficient to defray the cost of the printing and plans of the patents. These are now executed by contractors under the charge of this department at the same time that the specifications, plans, &c., are filed in a public office. The expense incurred under this head amounts at present to about 40,000*l.*

Formerly also a good many public offices which were supplied with their stationery by this office, repaid us for the same, so that its expense did not go to increase our Estimate; but this system has latterly been in great measure abandoned, and the greater number of the sums that were formerly repaid to us are now included in the Estimate of this Office. Of these, the principal are,—

Inland Revenue Department	- - - -	£. 15,000
Military Libraries	- - - -	4,000
Garrison Schools	- - - -	7,000
Naval Libraries	- - - -	2,000
Law Departments, &c.	- - - -	1,000
Registration Books and Forms	- - - -	1,000
		£. 30,000

And it is farther to be observed, that a certain portion of the sums expended by this Office, and included in our Estimates, are received back by the public in payments for Parliamentary Papers, and other publications sold for its behoof, in money derived from the advertisements and sale of the London, Dublin and Edinburgh Gazettes, the cost of which is wholly defrayed by this Office, and by the sale of waste paper received from the different public departments; these items may be estimated at about 22,000*l.* a year.

Hansard's Sales	- -	£. 4,500
Stationery Publications	- -	3,000
Gazettes	- -	12,000
Waste Paper	- -	4,500
		£. 22,000

It results from these statements—

Patents	- - - -	£. 40,000
Inland Revenue and other Departments	- - - -	30,000
		£. 70,000

1st. That since 1854, the Estimate for this Office has been charged with about 70,000*l.* a year that was previously either paid by the public, or by other departments, and deducting this sum from the Estimate for the current year (412,000*l.*—70,000*l.*), the residue, or 342,000*l.* will be the amount at which it would have stood but for the additions referred to; and,

2d. It farther results that a sum amounting at present to about 22,000*l.* is repaid to the public, through the sale of Parliamentary Papers, Gazettes, &c., the cost of which is defrayed out of the Estimate for this Office; and in truth the sum so repaid exceeds 22,000*l.*; for, as the paper for the Ordnance Survey, Admiralty Charts, &c. is furnished by this Office, it follows that some portion of the sums realised by the sale of the Ordnance Maps and Admiralty Publications should be set down to our credit.

These explanations have not been made in the view of under-rating the heavy cost of printing and stationery, or of concealing in any degree its increase; but merely that My Lords might be fully aware of the exact amount of that cost, and of the peculiar and novel circumstances which have recently affected our Estimates by charging them with payments previously made by others. The other causes of increase will now be noticed.

II. It is plain, from the nature of this Office, which is in fact a warehouse for the supply of other Offices, that when any considerable increase takes place in its expenditure the cause must be sought for in the increased demands made upon it.

1. Now

1. Now these have been vastly increased of late by circumstances growing out of the war with Russia. Thus the expense of ammunition papers, which, previously to the war, did not exceed some 2,000 l. or 3,000 l. a year, rose, in 1854-55, to 32,600 l., and in 1855-56 they amounted to 19,600 l. There has also been a greatly increased expenditure on the printing of military and naval forms, the purchase of maps, books, and so forth.

2. But, independent of the war with Russia, which may be looked upon as accidental, there is, speaking generally, a strong tendency to increase the demands for printing and stationery. This arises partly from the increasing population and connexions of the Empire, and the growing desire for publicity, and partly from the establishment of schools and libraries, either wholly or partly supported by the public. The latter include the various Establishments connected with the Committee of Council on Education, the Military and Naval Schools and libraries in barracks, garrisons and ships; the schools and libraries in gaols, penitentiaries, hulks, &c. The outlay on these different heads is already large, and is rapidly increasing; and as it would appear to be a branch which is peculiarly liable to abuse, it should be sharply looked after. If I might presume to give an opinion on such a point, I should say that the books and stationery supplied to the schools and establishments now referred to are of a much too costly description, and that articles of an inferior quality and price would answer every useful purpose quite as well.

III. Much must always depend in regulating the demands for stationery on the gentlemen at the head of the great departments of the State, such as the Treasury, the War Office, the Admiralty, Inland Revenue, Customs, Post Office, &c. Such officers have a vast deal in their power, and are able, by a little attention on their part, without in any degree affecting the efficiency of the service, to save large sums in the expenditure upon stationery. This will be evident, when it is considered that the price of the foolscap used in writing varies from 8 s. 10 d. to no less than 23 s. 9 d. a ream.

It is a curious fact, that while some of the highest functionaries in the most important offices are well satisfied with the cheaper sorts of paper, others in very inferior situations are clamorous for those which are most expensive. They usually apologise for this by alleging that they have letters to write and reports to make to high personages. But this is not a valid reason for extra expenditure. Provided the style of the documents laid before them be clear and compact, and the matter good, the personages in question care excessively little about the paper on which they may be written.

But independent of the attention given to this matter by the chiefs of departments, a good deal has been and may be done to prevent and check abuse by the institution of judicious regulations. In 1847 and 1848 the expenditure of this office amounted to 295,513 l. and 302,362 l., having increased to that amount from 217,274 l. in 1844. This rapid progress, for which no just cause could be assigned, having attracted the notice of the Treasury, their Lordships considered how it might be checked; and in this view they passed in 1848 a Minute, in which certain restraints were imposed on the demands for printing, by making the sanction of a Secretary of State, or other high functionary, necessary before any paper could be sent to press. A plan was then also introduced, by which a clerk was to be appointed in each department, whose duty it was to take care of the stationery, and to issue it to those entitled to receive it. This clerk was to make out all demands on this Office, which were, in addition, to be countersigned as approved by a Secretary or other superior officer, before they were forwarded to us. These arrangements had an instant and a powerful effect—so much so, that the charge for stationery, which amounted to 302,362 l. in 1848, gradually fell off to 216,509 l. in 1852.

Simultaneously with these measures, instructions were given to the Comptroller of this Office, who was desired to scrutinise all demands, from whatever quarter they might come, and to decline to comply with those that appeared unnecessary or excessive, and I can venture to say that I have availed myself (I hope judiciously) of the power so given me. But I regret to have to state, in regard to the matters now referred to, that their Lordships' salutary regulations have not been so well carried out as might have been anticipated. Thus, in the instances of the Committee of Council on Education, the Home Office, the Accountant-general's branch of the Admiralty, and the Office of the Paymaster-general, the persons in charge of stationery are not clerks, but messengers or office-keepers. There would be less to object to in this arrangement were these persons reasonably well instructed, but I am sorry to say such is not generally the case, and that we are every now and then receiving demands and notes from the offices referred to, which, to say the least, are anything but creditable productions. And, however well-instructed and well-disposed, it cannot be fairly expected that persons in the situation of messengers should resist the improper demands of clerks for stationery, or that they should act with the firmness so necessary in a functionary who is to control the expenditure of, probably, several thousands a year. This, therefore, is a matter to which I would beg to draw their Lordships' attention. And besides laying it down that the persons in charge of stationery should be clerks on the establishments to which they belong, it appears to me that it would be desirable to improve or strengthen their position, and that they should be directed to prepare annual reports, to be laid before their superiors or their Lordships, in regard to the expense of stationery in the departments to which they are respectively attached, accompanied with such suggestions as they may have to offer for reducing its cost. Their attention would thus be kept alive to their their duties, and they would be prevented from falling into that routine system, under which, any abuse, not of a very unusual description, may be perpetuated without let or hinderance. Even in the most economically conducted offices there is still ample room for retrenchment.

IV. In a country like this the printing for the public must always be very great. But where a large expenditure must be incurred for what is necessary, there is the less excuse for increasing it unnecessarily, and no one can doubt that this is done to a very great extent; 1st, by printing papers that are not really required; 2d, by printing too many copies of those that are required; and, 3rd, by printing them in too expensive a manner. It is probable, however, that some scheme will be speedily adopted for checking the printing of useless papers, and the too great number of copies of others. And I am glad to have to state that the Treasury have very recently sanctioned a plan for printing Evidence and Appendices to Reports and Papers in double columns and a smaller type, by which a very material saving of paper and press-work will be effected.

The weight of the double foolscap used for printing was reduced, in 1841, from 32 lbs. per ream to 27 lbs. per ditto. In 1855 it was farther reduced to 26 lbs.; and it has now been reduced to 24 lbs. These are measures by which a considerable saving has been and will be brought about.

Hitherto Reports of Commissions, and other papers printed by order of the heads of the different departments, and termed "Papers printed by Her Majesty's Command," have been classed under the vague, though comprehensive, term of Parliamentary printing. The vice of this system is that the undue facilities given by some departments for printing are not brought under the eye of the House of Commons or of the public, and that the most wasteful get the same credit for economy that is enjoyed by those that are most economical. But I submit that an end should be put to this, by having annually prepared and laid on the table of the House of Commons an account of all the reports and papers printed by order of every different Office; stating the number of copies of each ordered to be printed, and its total cost. By bringing the responsibility of the printing directly home to those by whom it is ordered, this plan will do justice to all parties. And I am much mistaken if it do not occasion a considerable diminution of expense.

V. I have stated at considerable length, in a letter I addressed to the Treasury on the 2d April 1857, the reasons why I humbly think that Government should cease to supply pens, penknives, scissors, erasers, and so forth, to the different parties engaged in the public service. It is not possible to make the purchase of these articles the subject of fair and equal contracts; and even if this difficulty were got over, the abuses connected with their supply are completely irremediable. And hence the expediency of its abolition. This I am satisfied would be a great advantage; not so much on account of the direct saving it would occasion, though that would be very large, as of the petty frauds of which it would make an end, and the improved morale to which it would eventually lead.

VI. Some considerable portion of the expenditure on account of stationery will, of course, always depend on the way in which this Office is conducted. Opposition to unnecessary expense ought always to be the rule; and should be invariably enforced when practicable. Sometimes, however, we should lose more than we should gain by over strictness. But I hardly think that those who may come after me will find that they can do much more than I have done in the way of opposing expense.

Department of Science and Art, South Kensington, S.W., 19th May 1857.

Sir,

THE Lords of the Committee of Privy Council on Education herewith submit for the approval of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, an Estimate of the sums which will be required by the Department of Science and Art for the year ending 31st March 1858, together with an explanation of the differences between the present Estimate and that for the year preceding.

This Estimate was prepared before the department was united to the Committee of Council on Education; but some modifications have been made which have appeared to the Committee of Council to be of urgent necessity.

The increase has been occasioned chiefly by the removal of the department to South Kensington, which has entailed very extended duties of superintendence, besides general expenses belonging to new functions that had not heretofore been assigned to the service. Foremost among these is the charge of the collection of British Pictures and Drawings presented to the nation by Mr. Sheepshanks. In accepting this munificent gift, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury have authorised the preparation of adequate rooms to receive them, it being one of the conditions made by Mr. Sheepshanks that proper accommodation should be prepared before the pictures and drawings are handed over, and that this accommodation should be at Kensington. It is hoped that the building now in course of construction will resolve some points of lighting and display, &c. in the exhibition of pictures, and afford experience on the question of site useful to the inquiry on the subject recommended by the House of Commons last Session. To provide for the building and contingencies, a sum of 4,700 l. has been taken.

In the year 1855 Parliament furnished funds for the erection of a large Iron Museum at Kensington, not only to provide for the wants of the Museum, of Ornamental Art, but also for the reception of various collections belonging to the public, or those which may hereafter be made available to the public. To the Patent Commissioners has been allotted a space for the exhibition of patented inventions. The Commissioners of the Exhibition of 1851 will exhibit a Trade Museum. The Committee of the Architectural Museum, which urgently wanted space for the valuable collections in Caenon Row, has sought the assistance of the department, and will occupy considerable room, and thus throw open its Museum to the public. Their respective bodies act as exhibitors in the Iron building; but while each provides provides for certain expenses in the arrangement of its collections, and is solely responsible for their completeness and preservation, the expenses of general custody, of warming, watching, police, repairs of buildings, and preservation of the grounds, will have to be found by the department; and these services, which are explained in detail in the Estimates, amount to an additional expenditure of 2,168*l*.

Another purpose, on account of which the temporary Iron building received the sanction of Parliament, was to afford accommodation for the Educational Museum, which was originated in 1854, and its nucleus given to the Education Board, on the condition of being publicly exhibited. This department has been charged to undertake the duties of completing and ranging this Museum, and a sum of 500 l. has been included in the Estimates for that purpose.

While providing for all contingencies in so far as to secure the opening of the Iron Museum in the most economical manner, I would explain that my Lords do not propose to suggest any permanent appointments until they have had experience of the utility and the requirements of the several exhibitions, and of their appreciation by the public. As in the Exhibition of 1851, and with the concurrence of the Secretary for War, my Lords propose to employ a sufficient number of the Royal Engineers, who, being artisans, are specially qualified to assist in the general arrangements and safe custody of the Museum and Schools. This is a useful and economical arrangement both for the department and for the corps of Royal Engineers. The department thus obtains very competent and disciplined services, which may be dispensed with readily without entailing permanent claims, and whilst the men, when their official duties are over, are taught Drawing, Photography, &c. by the department, which are of great use in their military duties.

Two additional School-rooms, one for Architectural, the other for Mechanical Drawing, both subjects of instruction urgently demanded in the Provincial Schools, are required, in order properly to carry out these branches of study in the training class for Masters. For the rooms and for general contingent repairs throughout the other School-rooms, &c., a sum of 1,550 l. is taken.

The increase in the Staff of the department itself, independently of the removal to Kensington, arises from its natural and healthy development. The separation of the department from the Board of Trade renders necessary the appointment of an Accountant, and a sum of 250 l. is taken for his salary. Under the head of inspection, my Lords propose to take a sum of 450 l. for an additional Inspector, to inspect schools both of Science and Art. The increasing number of these schools, and the more extensive and vigorous system of examinations introduced, render the appointment of this additional officer urgently necessary. The growth of the Museum of Art, and the circulation of its examples to local Schools of Art, demand an Assistant Keeper, for whom a sum of 150 l. is taken. The circulation of the works of Art, which in two years have been exhibited to 88,000 persons in the provinces, adding greatly to their appreciation in their respective localities, has induced their Lordships to extend the benefits of the valuable Library of Art in a similar manner. To enable important books on Art to be lent under proper regulations, a sum of 500 l. is proposed.

With the view of supplying to provincial Schools and Museums Photographs of objects of Art belonging to the Museum, or lent by private persons for public instruction, and being of a character to improve manufactures, a sum of 150 l. for the necessary apparatus and chemicals is provided; and a sum of 350 l. is included in the Estimates for the additional store-room required for the effective distribution of examples copied either by the electrotype process, or by casting, and the prizes of Drawing Boards, Drawing Instruments, &c. given to parish and other public schools.

In the scientific portions of the service, my Lords desire to submit an increase of 600 l. on the Estimate for the Geological Survey of the United Kingdom. They propose this increase from the consideration that the Trigonometrical Maps of many of the most important mining districts being complete, the wants of those districts, to have an accurate survey of their mineral resources, ought, in the opinion of their Lordships, to be supplied in this respect. My Lords accordingly propose to augment to a small extent the staff of the Survey, in order that it may be enabled to undertake this duty. They suggest that one Senior Geologist and one Assistant Geologist should be added to the Survey for Great Britain, and that one Assistant should be raised to the rank of a Senior Geologist in Ireland.

The only other increase to which it appears needful to direct your attention, is the sum of 100 l. taken for an additional attendant, and for the augmentation of prizes in the Museum of Irish Industry.

As soon as this Board received the instructions of the Treasury to add to the Estimates a sum on account for the erection of a National Museum in Edinburgh, they directed one of their officers to proceed there, with the view of obtaining the information desired by the Treasury; and when this officer has completed his inquiries, my Lords will forward a Supplementary Estimate for this particular service.

Some diminution in the Estimates of the Department of Science and Art will be found under the heads of Prizes (400 l.), Guarantee Fund (500 l.), Travelling Expenses (250 l.), and Incidents (190 l.). The Estimate for the Dublin Lace School has also been reduced from 500 l. to 250 l. and it is not intended again to submit to Parliament an Estimate for this school.

Making these modifications in the Estimate, the total amount is 73,855 l., being an increase of 9,180 l. over the Estimate for 1856-7, whilst as compared with the Estimate of 1855-6, it shows a decrease of 5,509 l., and as compared with that of 1854-5, a decrease of 5,990 l.

I am, &c.

The Secretary,
Her Majesty's Treasury, Whitehall.

W. Cowper.

EXPLANATIONS relating to the ESTIMATE of the COMMISSIONERS of NATIONAL EDUCATION, IRELAND, for the Year ending 31st March 1858.

(A.)—Normal Establishment.

IN consideration of the long and valuable services of the two Professors and their Assistants, the Commissioners, after having made full inquiry as to the salaries, &c. paid to gentlemen holding similar positions in the several training institutions in England, have increased the salaries of the Professors to 400 l. per annum each (this sum includes an allowance for residence, &c. of 60 l., as taken in previous Estimates, but under another head of service).

The Assistants to the Professors to rise to 300 l. each, as a maximum salary.

It will be perceived that the Commissioners in the present Estimate have classed all the expenses connected with the Training of Teachers under this head, viz., Normal Establishment.

(B.)—Central Model School Department, Marlboro'-street.

Under this head is embraced every expense for maintaining not only the Model Schools in Marlboro'-street, but of the other Model Schools under the exclusive control of the Commissioners in the Metropolis.

(C.)

The allowance of 40 l. per annum as lodging allowance, heretofore paid to the Master and Mistress of the Infant School, has been merged in their joint salaries, in conformity with the suggestions (with regard to all allowances) of the Commissioners appointed by the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury to inquire into the working of the Official Establishment.

The funds for the erection and fitting up of the District Model Literary Schools at Belfast have been voted in former Estimates.

A further sum of 800 l. is required for the erection of an additional room and furniture.

(E.)—Salaries to Teachers, &c. of National Schools.

In the Estimate for the year 1856-7 the sum taken under the head of Salaries to Teachers and Assistants, was only 101,000 l., while the actual sum to be paid under this head would amount to 106,000 l. The amount of the surplus Expenditure was available from a previous year, viz., 1855-6.

Gratuities to Teachers for Training Monitors, also for Training Pupils for the office of Teacher or Pupil Teacher.

For an explanation of the object contemplated in this charge, see Report of Commissioners for year 1855, sections XXIV. and XXV., par. 67, 68, 69, and 70, as annexed:—

XXIV.—67. Believing that much good would be effected by holding out to teachers, to whose schools Monitors may be attached, the prospect of some slight reward for their services in training and instructing them, we have determined on granting annual gratuities according to the following scale, with the view of securing from their principals increased attention to the progress and improvement of those young persons. Thus all teachers who have Monitors placed under them, and who shall be reported by the Inspectors as duly attentive to the conduct of their young assistants, and careful in giving them instruction in their prescribed course of study, will be entitled:—

For each Monitor of first year, to	-	-	1
For each Monitor of second year, to	-	10	-
For each Monitor of third or fourth year, to	3	-	-

68. The amount of gratuity in each case to be awarded only on the joint recommendation of the Head and District Inspectors.

XXV.—69. With the like view of encouraging our teachers to train up for the office of instructors the most promising of their pupils who may choose that as their future calling in life, we have decided, that for every pupil who, after having been appointed to a school, shall pass respectably the first examination to which he or she shall be summoned subsequently to such appointment, the Master or Mistress by whom such pupil shall have been trained, trained, shall be entitled to a sum of not less than 2*l.*, and not more than 3*l.*; but in no year is the amount to exceed 15*l.* to any one school or teacher as the reward of such services. On similar grounds we have decided also that a gratuity of not more than 2*l.* shall be awarded to teachers from whose schools shall proceed eligible candidates for the office of Pupil-teacher in our Model Schools.

70. The conditions to be observed in regard to these gratuities are:—

I. That such pupil shall have attended in the school not less than two consecutive years immediately preceding his or her appointment as Teacher or Pupil-teacher.

II. That the District Inspector shall certify that the school in which such pupil shall have been trained is efficiently conducted in all respects.

III. That the Head Inspector before whom such pupil shall have been examined shall certify that the teacher is entitled to the gratuity.

We have further determined that retrospective effect shall be given in a select number of cases—say thirty, to the above principle; and that teachers who in past years trained young persons who are at present efficiently discharging the duties of instructors in our schools, shall, if recommended, be paid a gratuity, proportionate in amount to their services, but in no case exceeding 20 l.

(F.)—Agricultural Schools.

The greater number of the National School Farms being now tolerably well supplied with live stock, implements, &c., and a considerable amount of necessary permanent improvements having been effected; the amount estimated for the year 1857–58 is considerably less than that of last year.

The total sum estimated for agricultural schools, including the Training Institution at the Model Farm, Glasnevin, is, after deducting the probable amount of receipts, 8,300 l.

It may be reasonably and confidently expected that there will be a progressive increase of receipts from the farms, whilst the outlay, which at their commencement was considerable, but at the same time unavoidable, will be gradually diminishing.

(G.)—District Model Agricultural Schools.

The Belfast and Kilkenny Model Agricultural Buildings are now in course of erection; the sum of 4,000 l. was taken for the former in previous estimates, and 3,000 l. for the latter. The Commissioners have included in the present estimate the sum of 6,400 l., which amount will be required to complete the contract works, exclusive of fittings.

With reference to these buildings the contracts for which amount to 13,384 l. 18 s. 10 d., the Commissioners have to observe that a sum of about 4,400 l., included in these contracts, is for the erection exclusively of the literary portion of the buildings in which it is intended, that the masters for literary instruction as well as pupil teachers should reside.

The Munster Model Agricultural School, situated near the City of Cork, is now in progress of building.

A sum 4,400 l. has been contributed by Her Majesty's Treasury out of the Reproductive Loan Fund towards these buildings in addition to which the Commissioners have included in the present year's estimate the sum of 3,200 l. which amount will be required to pay off the residue of the contract. The Commissioners have further to remark in reference to these schools that the land comprising about 126 statute acres upon which the Munster Model Agricultural School is to be built, has been leased to them since the year 1853; and that the lands in the neighbourhood of Kilkenny and Belfast are in the occupation of the Commissioners since the year 1854.

The Commissioners have pledged themselves to the carrying out of these undertakings, but from many unavoidable reasons the works have been delayed, although the contracts were advertised at an early period of the year 1856.

The plans of the buildings at Kilkenny, Cork, and Belfast have been prepared under the superintendence of Mr. Darley, the Architect of this Board.

The deeds of contract made particular reference to the Architect for the time being; the works are now in progress under Mr. Darley's supervision, and as the architectural department of this Commission is to be transferred to the Board of Works, on the 31st March next; the Commissioners are unanimously of opinion that Mr. Darley should be permitted to superintend these buildings till completed, and have resolved to make a recommendation to that effect to the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury, in which recommendation the Commissioners will be supported by the Board of Works.

ROYAL IRISH ACADEMY (REPORT).

DURING the last Academic session, the usual number of General Meetings, viz., fourteen, were held.

These were attended by 820 members of the Academy, and by 178 visitors introduced by members.

The library has been accessible to both the members of the Academy, and literary people introduced by members, or parties applying for admission; but no return of the number of visitors has been kept, as from various causes the books have not been permanently placed, or arrangements completed, which would allow access to strangers except in a limited degree.

The arrangement of the Museum in the new room has not been completed, though considerable progress has been made in this work. In this department no return of visitors has been kept, as it has not been considered either safe or expedient to announce the Museum freely open to the public. Respectable looking people have been admitted to visit the museum at all times, and visitors introduced by members of the Academy, or by people known to the curator.

The publications of the Academy have advanced during the past year, and an unusual outlay for printing has taken place, amounting to 365*l.* 3*s.* 5*d.*

A very considerable addition has been made to the Manuscript Department, and to the Irish printed books in the library, by purchase. The Museum has also been enriched by securing a collection of specific objects in gold from the collection of antiquities found recently in the county of Clare. Other purchases have also been made by the Committee of Antiquities calculated to complete series already in the Museum.

The Academy has, as usual, transmitted its publications to the numerous kindred institutions in Great Britain, and on the continents of Europe and America, and received in return their publications, which have greatly increased the value and utility of the library.

Edward Clibborn,

Assistant-Librarian and Curator of Museum, R. I. A.

ANNUAL REPORT of the ROYAL HIBERNIAN ACADEMY.

THE Royal Hibernian Academy in presenting their Annual Report upon the affairs and management of their Institution, are gratified to state that its present position is much better, and its prospects are more encouraging than it has been in their power of late years to report.

They have steadily laboured to extricate the Academy from the heavy debts which encumbered it, and although they have not received any additional pecuniary assistance from Government towards that end, which the case they have lately laid before the Executive would have led them to expect, yet they are now in a position to state that it is nearly free from debt, as there are only a few balances of old accounts remaining due, while a sufficient sum is in the Treasurer's hands to meet the necessary current expenses of the year. The Academy have not attained to this position without much individual sacrifice on the part of their members; all the officers have given their services gratuitously, and the claims for arrears of salaries, owing for some years, have also been foregone, thus enabling them to devote a larger sum towards the liquidation of the debts than would otherwise be in their power.

In this country, where the profession of an artist is so scantily remunerated, this sacrifice of the small salaries the Academy were able to apportion, is greater than might at first be supposed, it has, however, been cheerfully made. It must also be borne in mind that there are no appointments or offices of emolument similar to those in other professions, which an artist can look forward to, nor is a life's devotion to the pursuit of art, stimulated by the prospect of a pension from Government, which is so often extended to that of literature.

The duties appertaining to the Academy, though gratuitously rendered, have never been more efficiently or punctually discharged. The Schools of the Antique and of the living model, continued open from the period of sending in the last Report up to the 16th March, when it became necessary to prepare for the Annual Exhibition, the Academy having determined to hold it in future during the spring months. The Twenty-ninth Annual Exhibition opened on the 19th April, and closed on the 16th July, being about the usual average duration of the season. It contained 413 works, and was generally considered to be the best the Academy has had for some years. Her Majesty the Queen, as Patroness of the Academy, was graciously pleased to send a large picture from the Royal Collection, which greatly contributed to the interest and value of the Exhibition. There were 297 season tickets sold at half-a-crown each, being an increase of about three times the number disposed of during the last and preceding Exhibitions, and 2,097 Visitors, paying one shilling each. Family tickets were, for the first time, issued at 2 s. 6 d., to admit four persons, of which 228 were sold. Members of the Mechanics' Institute were admitted at half price, and several schools gratuitously, amongst others, the boys of the Royal Hibernian Military School. An evening conversazione was also held during the Exhibition, which was honoured by the presence of his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant. The total number of Visitors to the Exhibition was 3,680. The total receipts were 207 l. 10 s., and the expenditure, 167 l. 17 s., a sum of 39 l. 13 s. being realised over and above all expense. The amount of the per centage on the sales effected in the Exhibition has not yet been received, but, if added, would make the total sum realised about 63 l. As there has been for some years past an average yearly loss of about 100 l. on the Exhibitions, the Academy feel that the result anticipated from abrogating the penny admissions, has been attained.

An Art Union has been established in Dublin during the year, which the members of the Academy have assisted to promote by every means in their power, believing that such Institutions exercise a most beneficial effect upon art; and that in this country, from the paucity of public patronage or encouragement which unhappily prevails, the establishment of such a society becomes particularly desirable. The Academy have also granted the use of one of their Exhibition rooms to the Art Union Committee, to exhibit such prizes as were selected from their late Annual Exhibition.

The antique and living model schools opened for the Session on the 6th October; the former daily, the latter each evening from 8 to 10 o'clock. The average weekly attendance at these schools has been 18 students at the Antique School, and 48 students at the Living Model School. When elementary instruction in drawing shall become general, the utility of Schools of Design will be better recognised, and the Art Schools of academies will occupy the true position of affording instruction to those only who wish to prosecute the study of the fine arts in their higher branches, and the Academy feel it their duty to give additional attention to these Schools, and second to the best of their ability the efforts now making by Government to advance art education.

The members of the Academy have zealously exerted themselves to increase its efficiency, but the limited means at their disposal militate against their exertions. Were it not for the anxiety of the members to uphold the Academy, and the love of art which actuates them, the business of the institution could not be conducted; the small salaries that have been apportioned to the various officers, cannot be considered as affording any adequate remuneration for the necessary duties, and it cannot be expected that the zeal of individual members will continue, or that so much of their time can be devoted to its sustenance at a personal sacrifice. The numerous casts from the antique in their schools have not been painted for many years, and are in want of some repairs. The Academy-house is also much in need of a thorough painting and repairing, as from the circumstances in which the Academy has been placed, there has been no means of meeting such an expenditure.

They respectfully submit, therefore, that the annual grant of 300 l. voted in aid, is for the reasons they have set forth insufficient, and that with a yearly grant of 500 l. the Royal Hibernian Academy will be placed on a secure and permanent basis, and the sphere of its usefulness largely increased.

REPORT.

My Lords,

National Gallery,
6 April 1857.

I HAVE the honour to submit the Annual Report on the National Gallery, being the second since the re-constitution of the establishment in July 1855.

The details in the present Report are classed under the following heads:—

1. Pictures purchased since the 31st of March 1856.
2. Negotiation respecting the Pisani Paul Veronese.
3. Pictures purchased prior to the 31st of March 1856, and enumerated in the former Report.
4. Transfer, to another museum in the United Kingdom, of pictures not required for the National Gallery.
5. Sale of pictures not required for the National Gallery.
6. Bequests and donations.
7. Details relating to the Gallery and establishment.

I.—PICTURES purchased since the 31st of March 1856.

A picture in three compartments by Pietro Perugino had been purchased in February 1856; but as the possibility of exporting it from Lombardy was for some time doubtful, inasmuch as the Austrian government might, in virtue of a right of pre-emption, have decided on retaining it, the transaction was, for some months, regarded as a pending negotiation, and the purchase was, consequently, not included in the former Report. The acquisition may be dated from the 1st of May 1856, the date of the Imperial decree permitting the exportation. Details respecting the picture will be found in the Appendix (No. 1.)

The Treasury Minute dated 27 March 1855, contains the following passage: "My Lords are of opinion that, as a general rule, preference should be given to fine pictures for sale abroad. As regards the finer works of art in this country, it may be assumed that, although they may change hands, they will not leave our shores, whereas the introduction of fine works from abroad would form a positive addition to the treasures of art in England. My Lords are also of opinion that, as a general rule, preference should be given to good specimens of the Italian schools, including those of the earlier masters. It must, however, be clearly understood, that their Lordships do not intend in any way to fetter the Trustees and Director in their choice, but that they must use their discretion as circumstances arise."

Some important collections of pictures were sold by auction in London during the last spring. On those occasions, in accordance with the general tenor of the above instructions, I proposed to the Trustees that certain specimens should, if possible, be obtained.

The result was the purchase of four pictures at the sale of the Rogers collection:—
1. Two Heads of Apostles, a fragment of a wall-painting, by Giotto. 2. The Good Samaritan, by Jacopo Bassano. 3. The Triumph of Julius Cæsar, after Mantegna, by Rubens. 4. An Allegory, called the Horrors of War, by the same master.

One picture, the Glorification of the Virgin, attributed to Lo Spagna, was purchased at the sale of the Orford collection. Particulars respecting the five pictures are in the Appendix.

At a meeting of the Trustees on the 7th of July 1856, I submitted a list, with estimates, of some pictures on the Continent, which I recommended for purchase; proposing at the same time, that a sum, depending on the extent of the purchases which might be concluded, should be placed at my disposal to meet other favourable opportunities which might present themselves.

The proposal was sanctioned by the Trustees, and subsequently by Treasury letter dated 16th July 1856.

Of the negotiations undertaken in consequence of such arrangement, some are still pending.

Two pictures have been purchased; one, the St. Sebastian, by Antonio Pollaiuolo, was included in the list submitted to the Trustees; the other, an altarpiece with the predella, by Filippino Lippi, had been the subject of a former negotiation. Details relating to both pictures will be found in the Appendix.

II.—NEGOTIATION respecting the PISANI PAUL VERONESE.

SINCE the year 1853, endeavours have been made on the part of Her Majesty's Government to purchase the celebrated picture by Paul Veronese, in the possession of Count Vittore Pisani, in Venice, representing the Family of Darius before Alexander. Large offers had been made, before that date, by individuals, and also by a Foreign Power in 1852; but at that time the proprietor refused to sell the picture.

In 1853, Count Pisani defined the terms which he was then ready to accept. Those terms, communicated to Clinton G. Dawkins, Esq., at that time Her Majesty's Consul-general for the Lombardo-Venetian States, were about 12,000 l., exclusive of pecuniary compensations to various agents, and to members of the proprietor's household, some of whom had for many years derived a certain income from the gratuities of visitors attracted by the Pisani picture.

A considerable offer was made by Her Majesty's Government about that time, but without success.

Subsequently, the proprietor recalled his consent to sell the picture; and on later occasions, and even within the present year, when a personal application was made to him, by George Harris, Esq., Her Majesty's present Consul-general for the Lombardo-Venetian States, he still declined to enter into any negotiation.

In June 1856, conceiving that a liberal proposal would then be entertained, I addressed a letter to the Trustees of the National Gallery, recommending that the sum of 10,500 l. should be offered for the picture. At the same time, I stated to the Trustees, verbally, my opinion that 12,000 l. should, if necessary, be given for it.

The Trustees, with reference to the sum of 10,500 l., concurred in recommending the subject "to the consideration of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, with a view of obtaining their sanction for the purchase, independently of the grant already voted for this year's expenditure."

The offer of 10,500 l., sanctioned by the Treasury, was communicated to the proprietor in August last, under, as it seemed, favourable circumstances. His immediate answer was that he had no intention of selling.

It was concluded that, in the event of the Count Pisani being induced to part with the picture, he would be prepared to treat only on the terms originally proposed by himself.

Those terms were definite; but in order to arrive at the entire price, it was necessary to ascertain what additional sum would be required for the agents and dependants, whose demands, sanctioned by the proprietor, had increased since 1853.

After much difficulty it was finally understood that the price to be paid for the picture, including all such compensations, would be 13,650 l.

The Trustees of the National Gallery having, as above stated, recommended the offer of a large sum, had already, by that act, expressed their decided opinion in favour of the acquisition. The question that remained had reference solely to price, and on that question they forbore to offer any further observation.

The final demand, above specified, was referred by me, in November last, to the Lords of the Treasury for their consideration.

The negotiation was subsequently conducted under the immediate direction of the Treasury.

Her Majesty's Consul-general, George Harris, Esq., residing in Venice, was instructed to make investigations accordingly. His Report, transmitted in January last, afforded sufficient evidence that it was in vain to expect a reduction in the aggregate price above named.

The Lords of the Treasury resolved, if more favourable terms were not to be obtained, to give the sum demanded.

On the 4th of March 1857 the Count Pisani dictated the conditions on which he would be prepared to sell the picture to the British Government. Among those conditions he stipulated that the compensation which, without defining the amount, he required to be made to his dependants and agents, should be exclusive of the sum payable to himself. That sum he fixed at 360,000 Austrian livres, which, being by one of the conditions to be paid in silver, or its equivalent, amounted to about 12,280 l.

The entire price, comprehending the gratuities, was 13,650 l.

The contract was, by the conditions, to be concluded within one month from the 4th of March 1857.

The permission of exportation having been promised to Her Majesty's Minister at Vienna, before the negotiation was undertaken, the Treasury, through the Foreign Office, directed the Consul-general to pay the amount within the stipulated time.

The purchase was concluded on the 31st of March 1857.

III.—PICTURES purchased prior to the 31st of March 1856, and enumerated in the former REPORT.

Twenty pictures purchased within the year ending 31st March 1856, were described in the former Report. Of those pictures ten had been purchased together from a collection in Venice, with the intention of ultimately re-selling such as, in the opinion of the Trustees, might not be required for the National Gallery.

The twenty pictures referred to are numbered as in the former list.

1. Cosimo Rosselli.—An altarpiece in three compartments.

2. Sandro Botticelli.—A circular picture representing the Madonna and Child and Four Angels.

In the former Report, pp. 52, 53, it was stated that the two pictures in question had been placed in the hands of Signor Ugo Baldi, in Florence, for the purpose of being repaired. In consequence of that artist's occupations, a twelvemonth elapsed before one of the pictures, that by Cosimo Rosselli, was pronounced to be completed. Under these circumstances both pictures were directed to be sent to England, where the remaining restorations that may be requisite will in due time be undertaken.

3. Benozzo Gozzoli.—An altarpiece representing the Madonna and Child enthroned, with Saints and Angels. Placed in the Gallery in July 1856; numbered 283.

4. Sandro Botticelli.—A circular picture representing the Madonna and Child, an Angel, and the youthful St. John the Baptist. Placed in the Gallery in May 1856; numbered 275.

5. Andrea Mantegna.—The Madonna and Child enthroned, the Magdalen, and St. John the Baptist. Placed in the Gallery in April 1856; numbered 274.

6. Paul Veronese.—The Adoration of the Magi. Placed in the Gallery in February 1856; numbered 268.

7. Marco Basaiti.—St. Jerome reading. Placed in the Gallery in July 1856; numbered 281.

8. Bartolommeo Vivarini.—The Madonna and Child, with Saints. Placed in the Gallery in August 1856; numbered 284.

9. Bartholomeus Venetus.—Portrait of Lodovico Martinengo. Placed in the Gallery in August 1856; numbered 287.

11. Giovanni Bellini.—The Madonna and Child. Placed in the Gallery in July 1856; numbered 280.

12. Girolamo dai Libri.—The same subject. Placed in the Gallery in August 1856; numbered 285.

13. Francesco Tacconi.—The same subject. Placed in the Gallery in August 1856; numbered 286.

The above ten pictures are fully described in the former Report, pp. 53, 56.

Of the eight remaining pictures seven had formed part of the Galvagna collection, having been purchased together with Nos. 11, 12, and 13 in the foregoing list.

The Trustees having come to the conclusion that such seven pictures were not required for the National Gallery, it was proposed, in accordance with the Act of Parliament passed during the last Session (see Appendix, No. 2) to sell them by public auction. To such seven pictures was subsequently added a portrait of a lady by Pordenone.

The eight pictures are numbered as follows, in the former Report, where they are more fully described.

10. Pordenone.—Portrait of Pellegrina Morosini.

14. Palma Vecchio.—Bust portrait of the painter's daughter.

15. Giorgione (also called Schiavone).—A Young Huntsman.

16. Tintoretto.—The Triumph of David.

17. Jacopo Bassano.—The Departure of Abraham.

18. Jacopo Bassano.—The Prodigal Son.

19. Tintoretto.—Head of a Cardinal.

20. Leandro Bassano.—Bust portrait of a man.

It was proposed that the sale by public auction of the above eight pictures should take place together with the sale of the remainder of the Krüger collection, purchased by Government in 1854; such remainder consisting of forty-seven pictures.

IV.—TRANSFER, to another MUSEUM in the United Kingdom, of Pictures not required for the NATIONAL GALLERY.

IN consequence of a correspondence with the Treasury, the Governors and Guardians of the National Gallery of Ireland, at a meeting on the 1st of December 1856, directed a communication to be made to the Trustees of the National Gallery.

A copy of the following resolution, passed on the occasion referred to, was transmitted to the Director of the National Gallery on the 4th of December :—

“Resolved, That the Honorary Secretary be requested to write to the Director of the National Gallery of London, to inform the Trustees of that institution that this Board has received a letter from Sir Charles E. Trevelyan, on the part of the Lords of the Treasury, stating that a number of pictures are in the possession of the Trustees of the National Gallery which are not now required for that collection, and intimating that those works may be available for the National Gallery of Ireland, and to inquire from the Board of Trustees the particulars of the pictures referred to.”

A descriptive catalogue of the pictures not required for the National Gallery, and which it was proposed to sell by public auction, was transmitted to the Honorary Secretary of the Dublin Board accordingly.

The Honorary Secretary, George F. Mulvany, Esq., R.H.A., was subsequently deputed by the Dublin Board to inspect and report upon the pictures in question.

A copy of the following resolution, adopted at a meeting of the Governors and Guardians of the National Gallery of Ireland on the 21st of January last, was, on the following day, transmitted to the Director of the National Gallery for the information of the Trustees :—

“Resolved, That the Governors and Guardians approve of the Report now presented by Mr. Mulvany, and are prepared to accept for their collection the pictures enumerated by him, as at the disposal of the Trustees of the National Gallery of London, and desirable for their acceptance; and that Mr. Mulvany be authorised to inform Sir Charles L. Eastlake accordingly, and to make arrangements for the transfer of the pictures to the Governors and Guardians of the National Gallery of Ireland.”

The pictures so selected were 17 in number, viz.: ten from the Krüger collection, six from the eight pictures above enumerated, and a picture, hereinafter described, which had been presented to the nation, but which had been accepted on the understanding that it might, at the discretion of the Trustees, be transferred to some other museum in the United Kingdom.

The 17 pictures referred to, a list of which will be found in the Appendix (No. 3), were forwarded to Dublin on the 14th of February last.

The two remaining Italian pictures, before described,

No. 16. Tintoretto.—The Triumph of David,

No. 18. Jacopo Bassano.—The Prodigal Son, were sold with the remainder of the Krüger collection.

V.—SALE of PICTURES not required for the NATIONAL GALLERY.

At a meeting of the Trustees on the 19th of January last, summoned in conformity with the Act of Parliament (see Appendix, No. 2), the Director submitted a list of fifty-five pictures, forty-seven of them being the residue of the Krüger collection of early German and Flemish pictures, and eight being for the most part the residue of a small collection of Italian pictures purchased in Venice.

It was ascertained that the pictures referred to had all been, at different times, purchased, and not given or bequeathed, and that none of them had been exhibited in the National Gallery, being for the most part portions of collections from which selections had already been made for the National Gallery.

Further, that in consequence of a correspondence between the Treasury, the Governors and Guardians of the National Gallery of Ireland, and the Director, on the part of the Trustees, the Honorary Secretary of the Board of Governors and Guardians referred to had inspected the pictures above-mentioned for the purpose of reporting upon them to the Board in Dublin, in order to enable the Board to decide whether any, and, if any, which of the said pictures would be eligible for the National Gallery of Ireland.

The Trustees being of opinion that the pictures referred to were not required for the National Gallery, resolved:—

“That the fifty-five pictures in the list submitted be placed at the disposal of the Governors and Guardians of the National Gallery of Ireland, to make such selection from them as they may deem fit, and that the remainder be sold by public auction, under the authority of the Director.”

A copy of the above resolution having been transmitted to the Treasury, the sale of the pictures, with the above reservation, was sanctioned by Treasury letter, dated 30th January 1857.

Ten of the Krüger pictures and six of the Italian pictures were selected, as already stated, in order to be transmitted to Dublin.

The remaining thirty-nine pictures, consisting of thirty-seven from the Krüger collection and two from the Galvagna collection, were sold by public auction at Messrs. Christie and Manson's on the 14th of February 1857; the produce of the sale, the auctioneer's commission deducted, being,

For the thirty-seven Krüger pictures - - - -	230	13	6
For the two Italian pictures - - - - -	130	9	6

The sum of 361 l. 3 s. was, in conformity with the Act of Parliament, and by direction of the Treasury, paid into the Exchequer on the 28th of February last.

VI.—BEQUESTS and DONATIONS.

Bequest.

Joseph Mallord William Turner, R.A., died on the 19th of December 1851. His will, which contained important clauses relating to the disposition of his pictures, was for some years the subject of litigation. A compromise having been at length agreed to, final arrangements were directed by a decree of the Court of Chancery, dated the 19th of March 1856.

Pending the proceedings certain conditions in the will (see Appendix, No. 4.) were fulfilled provisionally. The testator had bequeathed to the National Gallery the picture called “Dido Building Carthage;” and another called in the will, “the picture formerly in the De Tabley collection,” on condition of their being accepted within twelve months after the testator's decease, and also on condition of their being placed always between two pictures by Claude, “The Sea Port and the Mill.”

The two pictures were placed in the National Gallery, as directed, on the 8th of December 1852: the arrangement of the pictures was approved by the Trustees of the National Gallery on the following day.

A caveat having been previously entered against the will, the executors delivered the two pictures above mentioned conditionally, the Trustees of the National Gallery undertaking, by an agreement dated the 12th of November 1852, to relinquish the pictures, “if called upon to do so by the Court of Chancery, or any other competent court of jurisdiction.”

The decree in Chancery before mentioned establishes the right of the nation to the two pictures. (See Appendix, No. 5).

The dispositions of the testator respecting his pictures generally, were expressed in codicils to his will. (See Appendix, No. 4). By those codicils his finished pictures were bequeathed to the nation, “provided that a room or rooms are added to the present National Gallery, to be when erected called “Turner's Gallery.”

One of the codicils referred to (the third in order in the will) fixed a term of five years as the period within which the above provisions should be carried out. The fourth codicil extended the term to ten years.

In February 1854, the executors of the will being of opinion that the pictures, drawings and engravings then remaining in the house of the late Mr. Turner, in Queen Anne-street, were exposed to risk, applied to the First Lord of the Treasury, requesting that the works in question might be deposited in the vacant rooms on the ground floor of the National Gallery, until the Chancery suit then pending should be disposed of.

The Trustees of the National Gallery having been officially apprized of such application, replied, in a letter dated the 10th of February 1854, that they were ready to receive the works accordingly, on the understanding that the transfer would be made "with the entire approbation of the legal advisers of the Crown and on the responsibility of the executors."

The transfer having been agreed to and approved, the pictures, drawings and engravings in question were placed, as proposed, in the rooms on the ground floor of the National Gallery. The removal began on the 31st of August 1854, and the arrangement, directed by one of the executors, was completed on the 7th of October following.

The subsequent and final delivery of the works to the keeper of the National Gallery took place on the 25th of September 1856.

With reference to the bequest of the pictures and the conditions annexed to it, as expressed in the codicils above mentioned, the decree in Chancery (Appendix, No. 4,) directs "that all the pictures, drawings and sketches by the testator's hand, without any distinction of finished or unfinished, are to be deemed as well given for the benefit of the public."

By the same decree the President and Secretary of the Royal Academy were appointed to select from the works, deposited as above, "such of the pictures, drawings and sketches, as shall, in their opinion, have been painted, drawn, or sketched by the testator's hand."

The two referees made their selection during the latter part of October, and during November 1856; the catalogue which they delivered in was verified by affidavit in the following month.

According to their instructions they set apart as the property of the nation every work, whether finished or unfinished, which they considered to be by the testator's hand. Agreeing in such selection they appointed no umpire.

The works so selected consist of—

Finished pictures	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	100
Unfinished pictures, including mere beginnings	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	182
Drawings and sketches in colour and in pencil, including about
300* coloured drawings	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	19,049
Total number of pictures, drawings and sketches	-	-						19,331

The proportion of finished to unfinished works, as above indicated, is not to be regarded as fixed.

The drawings are, for the most part, contained in a number of sketch-books. In enumerating the drawings in pencil, a leaf containing several sketches, sometimes on both sides, was counted as one sketch only.

The state in which the pictures were left in the late Mr. Turner's house, in Queen Anne-street, was by no means satisfactory. The effects of damp and dust were more or less apparent on all; the surface of some was cracked, and the canvas, in many instances, was injured.

A considerable number required, however, little more than ordinary cleansing and varnishing; and on the 10th of November 1856 twenty pictures were exhibited in some of the lower rooms in Marlborough House, the only space then available. On the 24th of the same month eight more were exhibited, and on the 8th of December six more; in all 34. Others were soon afterwards ready, but as space was wanting they are for the present reserved.

The Trustees considered it desirable that a certain number of the coloured finished drawings should be exhibited as soon as frames could be prepared for them. Space was provided for the exhibition of such works by means of screens, in suitable situations in the lower rooms in Marlborough House; it was proposed also to place a few of the larger drawings on the walls.

On the 2d of February last 75 coloured drawings were exhibited in Marlborough House in the mode described, and on the 9th of the same month 27 more were exhibited; in all 102 drawings.

It is well known to those who are conversant with tinted drawings that such works are in time injuriously affected by light. It is therefore to be understood that the exhibition of the drawings above mentioned, or of others which may be added, is a temporary exhibition only, and that after some months means will be adopted for protecting those works from light. Persons desirous of inspecting them will have opportunities of doing so under certain conditions.

Mr. Ruskin having proposed a plan for keeping such drawings, previously protected with glass, in closed cases; at the same time, by other arrangements, affording facilities for inspecting them; the Trustees have authorised his carrying out, to a certain extent, the method suggested, in order that they may judge of its fitness on a larger scale, and in reference to the conservation and convenient inspection of drawings in museums generally. Pencil or chalk drawings, not being injured by light, may be permanently exhibited, or if removed for a time may be replaced by drawings of a similar description.

In the selection of the drawings, and in deciding on the modes of mounting and framing them, the Director and Keeper were, with the sanction of the Trustees, assisted by a Committee invited for that purpose. The Committee consisted of H. A. J. Munro, Esq., Clarkson Stanfield, R.A., and David Roberts, R.A. They attended at the National Gallery on the 5th of December 1856, when their suggestions were recorded. They also inspected such of the pictures as required lining, and recommended that a certain number should be so protected.

Seventeen pictures have been directed to be lined accordingly.

A few of the works, unfinished as well as finished, were apparently in a ruined condition, from the effect of damp, and from the action of the atmosphere on certain colours. Mr. John Bentley having expressed to the Committee his conviction that he could, by a safe process, restore them (the surface being uninjured), it was agreed that they should be committed to his care for that purpose. His operations, which were inspected from time to time, have been altogether successful; and in order to show the original uncleaned state, a portion of one of the pictures, called "Queen Mab's Grotto," has been directed to be left in that state.

By the liberality of the next of kin to the Testator, a considerable number of frames which had been left in the house in Queen Anne-street, have been presented to the Trustees of the National Gallery. Such frames require, however, repairing and regilding, and a large proportion of new frames will still be wanted.

On the removal of the establishment connected with the Department of Science and Art from the upper rooms in Marlborough House, those rooms will, it is understood, be available for the Turner pictures. Some of the specimens, now crowded and ill-seen in the lower part of the same building, can be then placed in better situations and in better lights; and should there be sufficient space, the remainder of the finished pictures will, by degrees, be exhibited.

Still such an arrangement can only be regarded as temporary. It is understood that the Testator's wishes will be ultimately fulfilled by the appropriation of well-adapted apartments, to be called the Turner Gallery, for the permanent exhibition of the Turner bequest.

Donation.

A picture, consisting of half figures, life size, representing sportsmen reposing, ascribed to Herrera the Younger. Painted on canvas. Measure, 4 ft. 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ in. high, 6 ft. 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ in. wide.

Presented by Robert Goff, Esq.; received on the 12th of December 1856.

The picture having been accepted on the understanding that it might, at the option of the Trustees, be either retained for the National Gallery or transferred as a loan to some other museum in the United Kingdom, it was, with the sanction of the Treasury, transferred, as before stated, in February last, to the National Gallery of Ireland.

VII.—DETAILS relating to the GALLERY and ESTABLISHMENT.

Conservation of the Pictures.

The means which have been adopted to prevent, as far as possible, the dust and dirt occasioned by numerous visitors, have been attended with good results; at the same time, all endeavours to exclude the smoke which sometimes abounds in the vicinity, are counteracted by the necessity of keeping the sky-lights open when the rooms are crowded.

The practice of frequently wiping the surface of the pictures with a soft material has been continued. The adhesion of dust and impurities is thus in a great measure prevented. It is, however, to be observed, that as the collection increases, this operation, which cannot be confided to inexperienced hands, must tend to augment the cost of the establishment.

Pictures protected with Glass.

Several pictures, including some of the new acquisitions, have been protected with glass; experience having shown the beneficial effects of that system as regards the preservation of the works. The system is also in accordance with the following recommendation of the Select Committee of the House of Commons in 1853:—

"If the pictures, therefore, are to remain in their present situation, exposed to the same atmospheric influences as hitherto, your Committee deem it desirable to afford them, to every practicable extent, the benefit of this species of protection. If, on the other hand, they are to be removed to some more airy locality, the impediments which glass interposes to the full enjoyment of the beholder, might more than counterbalance any advantage to be derived from it in other respects."—(Report from the Select Committee on the National Gallery, 1853, p. xiv).

Nine pictures have been protected with glass during the year ending 31st March 1857. (See Appendix, No. 6.) The glasses before the pictures are all movable, and it is suggested that, in future, glasses before cartoons should also be contrived to be movable.

Pictures Varnished.

The method of frequently wiping the pictures with a soft material has the effect of maintaining, in most cases, a due gloss on the surface, so that the application of fresh varnish is rarely required. Three pictures only of those previously in the Gallery have been varnished during the year ending 31st March 1857. The newly acquired pictures placed in the Gallery during the same period were, for the most part, varnished previously to being exhibited. (See Appendix, No. 7.)

Backs of the Pictures.

During the year, 86 pictures, including 34 by Turner, have been protected so as to exclude dust from the backs. The material at present used for this purpose is glazed brown holland, the glazed surface being outside. It has not been considered expedient to displace the larger pictures (the backs of which were dusted during the preceding year) expressly for this purpose, but it is proposed that on all occasions when pictures not previously so treated are moved, with a view to change of arrangement, or from any other cause, or when pictures are first placed in the Gallery, the backs of the pictures should be protected in the same or some other effectual mode.

Repairs of Pictures.

No pictures previously in the Gallery have appeared to require repairs during the year. The operations essential to the conservation of the Turner pictures have been undertaken and satisfactorily performed by Mr. John Bentley and Mr. Francis Leedham; the process of lining, when necessary, having been entrusted to the latter.

Removal of Pictures to Marlborough House.

One picture only, the portrait of Sir William Hamilton by Sir Joshua Reynolds, has, with the consent of the Trustees of the British Museum (notified by letter dated 1st July 1856) been removed to Marlborough House during the year ending 31st March 1857.

Copying in the National Gallery.

In the Appendix (No. 8) will be found a Return, for one twelvemonth, of the number of students and others who have been occupied in copying in Trafalgar-square, and at Marlborough House, together with an indication of the works chiefly copied.

Number of Visitors to the National Gallery.

A statement on this particular will also be found in the Appendix (No. 9).

Catalogues.

The bulk of the descriptive catalogue relating to the Gallery in Trafalgar-square, has rendered it expedient to omit the notices of those pictures which have been from time to time removed to Marlborough House. The descriptive catalogue will thus in future be divided into two parts; one relating to the works of the old masters deposited in Trafalgar-square, the other relating chiefly to specimens of the British school deposited in Marlborough House. A Return of the number of catalogues sold during the year 1856, will be found in the Appendix (No. 10).

The special catalogue of the pictures in Trafalgar-square, referred to in the Treasury Minute dated 27th March 1855, is nearly completed.

The materials, now copious, for the register, referred to in the same Minute, of the works of the principal painters, continue to be arranged in a tabular form.

Details relating to the Establishment, and Arrangements consequent on the Increase of the National Collection.

On the addition, to that part of the National Collection which is in Marlborough House, of a portion of the Turner pictures in November last, a policeman was, with due sanction, added to the curators who attend there.

The expenditure to be incurred in providing for the exhibition of the Turner pictures and drawings, was sanctioned by Treasury letter, dated 6th January 1857.

As soon as the upper rooms in Marlborough House are ready to receive pictures, an additional policeman may be required.

Since June 1856, a constant watch by night as well as by day, has, with the approval of the Treasury, been established in the National Gallery, Trafalgar-square.

An addition of 7*l.* 16*s.* each to the salary of two assistant porters at Marlborough House, was sanctioned by Treasury letter, dated 11th April 1856.

The charges consequent upon the alterations already made in the year ending 31st March 1857, amount to 276*l.* 18*s.*

An addition of 257*l.* 17*s.* under the head of incidental expenses, comprehends the cost of a proposed additional policeman above referred to, together with further provision for the ordinary expenses of the establishment.

The

The extra (and temporary) cost of the exhibition of the Turner pictures and drawings, including lining and repairing pictures, providing frames for the pictures and drawings, and other expenses relating to such exhibition, is estimated at 2,000 l.

The increase in the present Estimate as compared with the last, consequent upon the above items of expenditure, is 2,534*l*. 15*s*.; but the entire Estimate, exclusive of the sum required to repay to the account of Civil Contingencies a portion of the cost of the Pisani Paul Veronese, is less than the former Estimate by 456*l*. 5*s*.

The statement of account relating to the purchase of pictures during the year ending 31st March 1857, will be found in the Appendix (No. 11).

Pursuant to instructions in the Treasury Minute, dated 27th March 1855, the general account relating to the establishment is submitted by the Keeper and Secretary monthly and yearly to the Commissioners of Audit.

To the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury.

Appendix, No. 1.

DETAILS respecting PICTURES purchased for the National Gallery during the year ending 31st March 1857.

1. Pietro Perugino.—The three principal portions of an altarpiece. The centre picture represents the Madonna kneeling before the child, who is presented to her by an angel; three distant angels, singing, appear above. The compartment on the left of the spectator represents the Archangel Michael; that on the right, the Archangel Raphael, with the young Tobias.

Painted on wood; in oil. Height of each picture, 4 ft. 2 in.; centre picture, 2 ft. 1½ in. wide; side pictures, each 1 ft. 10½ in. wide. The semicircular tops, probably added within the present century, may be considered an improvement, as the angels' heads in the centre picture would otherwise have touched the frame. In good preservation: it appears that some needless re-paintings, formerly observable, were removed by Signor Alessandro Brison, of Milan, in 1847. In the lower left corner of the picture of St. Michael is the inscription, "Petrus Perusinus pinxit."

According to documents preserved by the family, the three pictures came into the possession of the Cavaliere Melzi in 1786, after the suppression of the convent of the Certosa.

Purchased from Duke Melzi, of Milan, for 3,571*l*. 8*s*. 7*d*. For the reasons assigned in the Report, the 1st of May 1856 is regarded as the date of the acquisition.

Placed in the National Gallery, soon after its arrival in England, in August 1856, in the state in which it was received, without being re-varnished; numbered 288.

Painted by Perugino, as recorded by Vasari,* for the Church of the Certosa, near Pavia. The entire altarpiece consisted of six compartments. Above the three portions already described were, in the centre, a figure of the Almighty, which is still in its original place in the Certosa; on the sides, the subject of the Annunciation—the angel on the left of the spectator, the Madonna on the right; † all these were half figures. The two last-named have disappeared, but their places, as well as the places of the three principal pictures above mentioned, have been long supplied by copies.

Rumohr has stated various reasons for concluding that Raphael assisted in this work. "To me," he observes, "it appeared throughout Raphaelized; in the general treatment as in the parts, altogether re-cast." He speaks of the improved action of the St. Michael as compared with that of the same saint in the altarpiece of Vallombrosa, painted in 1500; and remarks, that "the hand on the shield is very happily drawn from nature, not in the customary manner of Perugino, but true and graceful." ‡

Passavant speaks of the picture as follows:—"The truly Raphaellesque feeling which pervades every part, the more accurate study of nature (as compared with Perugino's manner), which is especially remarkable in the hands, have often given rise to the opinion that Raphael must have assisted his master, to a considerable extent, in this work. This opinion receives an additional confirmation from a drawing from nature, as a study for the Archangel Raphael with the young Tobias, formerly in the Lawrence collection, and which appears to be by Raphael. From the great merits of the picture, it must be assumed that if Raphael really assisted in its production, its date could not be earlier than 1503."§ At that date, Raphael was twenty years of age.

The same writer, in another part of the work quoted, places both the side pictures—that of the Archangel Michael, as well as the other—among the early works of Raphael.||

The drawing referred to is now in the Taylor Gallery at Oxford; it is thus described by Dr. Waagen: "No. 75. Tobias and the Angel; on tinted paper, with silver point. Study for that part of Perugino's altarpiece for the Certosa at Pavia, which Raphael executed, and which is now in the possession of Duke Melzi, of Milan. Of delicate feeling for nature, and most elevated in the expression of melancholy in the head of the angel; about 1501."*

These opinions, if questionable as regards Raphael, do honour to Perugino. To him the majority of critics will be disposed to attribute both the pictures and the drawing. On a comparison of the centre with the side pictures, it can hardly be doubted that all are by the same hand. It will, at the same time, be admitted, that scarcely any other work by Perugino exhibits so much feeling in expression and action, so much delicacy of execution, or more force and harmony of colour. Accordingly, Rio speaks of it as "one of the most astonishing masterpieces of his (Perugino's) pencil."†

2. Giotto.—Heads of Two Apostles, under life size. Painted on plaster, in secco (the ancient method of wall-painting, which preceded buon fresco). Measure, 1 ft. 7½ in. square. On the whole well preserved.

Purchased at the sale of the Rogers collection, in May 1856, for 78*l.* 15*s.* Placed in the National Gallery during the same month. Numbered 276.

A fragment from one of the wall-paintings, formerly in the chapel of St. John the Baptist, in the church of Santa Maria del Carmine at Florence. See the edition of Vasari now in progress.‡ An engraving, with an account of the Chapel, will be found in the selections from the works of the Florentine painters, Giotto, Masaccio, and Fra Bartolommeo, by Thomas Patch. §

3. Jacopo Bassano.—"The Good Samaritan." Painted on canvas. Measure, 3 ft. 4½ in. high, 2 ft. 7½ in. wide. In good preservation.

Purchased at the sale of the Rogers collection, in May 1856, for 241*l.* 10*s.* Placed in the Gallery during the same month. Numbered 277.

From an inscription on an engraving of this picture, it appears that it was formerly the property of the Pisani family in Venice.||

4. Rubens.—An Allegory, called "The Horrors of War." Painted on paper, fastened on canvas. Measure, 1 ft. 7½ in. high, 2 ft. 6½ in. wide. In good preservation.

Purchased at the sale of the Rogers Collection, in May 1856, for 210*l.* Placed in the Gallery during the same month. Numbered 279.

Sketch for the large picture in the Pitti Palace, Florence.

5. Rubens.—"The Triumph of Julius Cæsar." Painted on canvas, fastened on wood. Measure, 2 ft. 11½ in. high, 5 ft. 5 in. wide. In good preservation.

Purchased at the sale of the Rogers Collection, in May 1856, for 1,102*l.* 10*s.* Placed in the Gallery during the same month. Numbered 278.

Sketch from compositions for the same subject, by Andrea Mantegna, now at Hampton Court.

6. Lo Spagna.—"The Glorification of the Virgin." Painted on wood. Measure, 5 ft. 10 in. high, 2 ft. 7¼ in. wide, with arched top. On the whole, well preserved.

Purchased at the sale of the Earl of Orford's pictures, in June 1856, for 651*l.* Placed in the Gallery in the following month. Numbered 282.

Formerly in the Ercolani Collection at Bologna. The picture belongs to the school of Perugino. If the name of Lo Spagna, which it has always borne, should ultimately prove to be correct, it will probably be found that the work is of the later period of the master, as it differs in many respects from his accredited productions in Spoleto, Assisi, and elsewhere.

7. Fillippino Lippi.—"The Virgin and Child, St. Jerome, and St. Dominick."—The predella represents on a small scale the Dead Christ, supported by Joseph of Arimathea, with single figures of St. Francis and the Magdalen.

Painted on wood; measure, 6 ft. 7 in. high, 6 ft. wide. In good preservation, some of the darker portions having only deepened with time.

Purchased from the Cavaliere Giuseppe Rucellai, of Florence, in January 1857, for 627*l.* 8*s.* Not yet arrived in England.

Mentioned by Vasari as having been painted for the chapel of the Rucellai, in the church of S. Pancrazio in Florence.¶ On the suppression of the church it was removed to the Palazzo Rucellai.

8. Antonio Pollaiuolo.—"The Martyrdom of St. Sebastian," with archers and crossbowmen as his executioners. Painted on wood; measure, 9 ft. 7 in. high, 6 ft. 6 in. wide. In good preservation.

Purchased from the Marchese Pucci, of Florence, in March 1857, for 3,155 l. 4 s. 6 d. Not yet arrived in England.

Vasari mentions this picture as having been painted for the chapel of the Pucci, in the church of S. Sebastiano de' Servi, in Florence, and describes it as "an excellent and rare production, in which are horses, naked forms, and finely foreshortened figures, the St. Sebastian being a portrait of Gino, the son of Lodovico Capponi." The biographer adds, that "this work was the most extolled of all the productions of Antonio (Pollaiuolo). For, endeavouring to imitate nature as he best could, he represented one of the archers stooping to charge his crossbow, with all the energy which a strong-armed man exerts in such an action. . . . And not only is this figure skilfully treated, but all the others, in various attitudes, exhibit the ability and study which the painter devoted to this work. It was completed in the year 1475."*

The praises of Vasari must be understood with reference to the date of the work and the novelty of the effort. But even eminent modern critics consider this production as the first which stimulated the Florentine painters in the study of anatomy.

Fuseli, after noticing its peculiarities, observes that it "has been numbered with the first productions of the age, because with the earliest traces of legitimate anatomy it exhibits its application."†

Rumohr ascribes the predilection of the Florentine painters for the study of form and anatomy in a great measure to the influence of Verrocchio and Antonio Pollaiuolo, both of whom practised sculpture more habitually than painting. Referring to the St. Sebastian, the principal work of the latter, he says:—"His (Antonio's) efforts in sculpture had been directed to a comprehensive study of organic forms; and in transferring to painting the experience so acquired, he excited, in those painters with whom he came in contact, the desire to attain a more extensive and thorough knowledge of form. The same tendency was disseminated beyond his immediate circle by his engravings, now become extremely rare."‡

Lanzi speaks of Antonio Pollaiuolo, and of the work in question, as follows:—"Antonio, the scholar of Piero, became a most skilful artist for that age. In the chapel of the Marchesi Pucci, in the church a' Servi, is his 'Martyrdom of St. Sebastian,' one of the best pictures of the 15th century which I have seen. The colouring is not excellent, but the composition departs from the customary treatment of the time, and the drawing shows the result of anatomical study. Antonio was perhaps the first who, by means of dissections, thoroughly learnt the system of the muscles."§

The picture in question is remarkable in the history of art on another ground; it is one of the earliest extant, and certainly the most important example of the art of oil painting, as that art, adopted from the Flemish masters, was practised in Florence.

Engraved in the Etruria Pittrice; the whole composition in outline, and the figures of the cross-bowmen in a separate plate.||

The eight pictures above enumerated have been purchased with a portion of the grant for the year 1856-57. The picture next mentioned has, with the sanction of the Treasury, been purchased partly with the balance of such grant, and partly with the aid of a sum advanced from Civil Contingencies.

9. Paul Veronese.—The Family of Darius before Alexander. The royal captives having mistaken Hephæstion for Alexander, the Queen Mother, Sisygambis, implores pardon of the conqueror, who, pointing to his friend, tells her she has not erred, for that Hephæstion is another Alexander.

A composition of many figures, in Venetian costume, with an architectural back ground.

Painted on canvas; measure, 15 ft. 4 in. wide; 7 ft. 8 in. high. In excellent preservation.

Purchased from the Conte Vittore Pisani, of Venice, in March 1857, for 13,650 l.

This picture, according to family traditions, and the united testimony of the historians of art, was painted by Paul Veronese for an ancestor of the present Count Pisani. According to Boschini,¶ vast sums were offered for it two centuries since; and within the last 30 years, sovereigns, public bodies, and opulent individuals have in vain endeavoured to secure it. D'Argenville states, on the authority of the Procuratore Pisani of his time (the first half of the last century), that Paul Veronese, having been detained by some accident at the villa of the Pisani (at Este), painted and deposited there this work, informing the family, after his departure, "that he had left wherewithal to pay for the cost of his visit." If this story be true, the great painter has now munificently redeemed his word.

The following description is extracted from the manuscript notes of Rumohr, the author of the "Italian Researches" before quoted:—

"The celebrated picture of the wife of Darius mistaking Hephæstion for Alexander. In excellent condition; perhaps the only existing criterion by which to estimate the genuine original original colouring of Paul Veronese. It is remarkable how entirely the genius of the painter precludes criticism on the quaintness of the treatment. Both the incident and the personages are, as in a Spanish play, romantically travestied. The princesses, with laced bodices and full Venetian gowns, have, nevertheless, a charming and becoming appearance, while the male figures, in their picturesque attire, look chivalrous, refined, and noble. The treatment of colour, especially in the flesh, and the excellence of the execution, are such as to render us almost unjust to other great colourists. In the presence of this work we forget for a time all other productions in painting."

* Vasari, Vita di Antonio e Piero Pollaiuolo. Vasari frequently uses the expression "Ritratto dal vivo," in cases where a portrait, originally taken from the life, was merely re-copied by the painter whose work he describes. Gino Capponi died a few years before Antonio Pollaiuolo was born.

In a Report to the Trustees of the National Gallery, dated 31st January 1856, referring to the negotiation for the picture above described, I adverted to the then recent acquisition of another specimen of the master, "the Adoration of the Magi," from the church of S. Silvestro, as follows:—

"With respect to the question whether the recent purchase of a large and celebrated work by the same master may be thought to interfere with this proposal, I observe that as regards the number of specimens, Paul Veronese is still far from being adequately represented in the National Gallery. There are now three specimens in the collection. In the Dresden Gallery there are fourteen pictures by Paul Veronese, several of which are of large dimensions; in the Munich Gallery there are eight; in the Louvre, twelve; in the Gallery at Venice, including two frescoes, fifteen, to say nothing of those in churches and private collections; in the Berlin Gallery, twelve; in the Gallery of the Uffizj, at Florence, nine. Considering the favour with which the works of this admirable master are regarded in this country, and the great advantage which English painters must derive from the study of those works, I am of opinion that a considerable addition to the specimens by him, at present in the Gallery, would be advisable."

CAP. XXIX.

AN ACT to extend the Powers of the Trustees and Director of the National Gallery, and to authorise the Sale of Works of Art belonging to the Public.

23d June 1856.

WHEREAS Pictures and other Works of Art acquired for the National Gallery by purchases out of monies granted by Parliament, and by bequests and donations, have been placed under the care and ordering of Trustees and a Director (appointed by the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury for that purpose): And whereas it is expedient that power should be given to dispose of such of the pictures and other works of art under the care and ordering of the said Trustees and Director, as they may adjudge to be unfit or not required for a National Collection, and that pictures and other works of art given to or for the benefit of the nation should, where no other provision is made by the donors, vest in and be under the care and ordering of the said Trustees and Director: Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

Pictures, &c. unfit to be preserved in the National Gallery may be sold.

I. The Trustees and Director of the National Gallery, or any three or more of them, of whom the Director shall be one, present at any meeting specially assembled for that purpose, by fourteen days' previous notice, may from time to time, with the consent in writing of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, order that any of the pictures and works of art for the time being under the care of the said Trustees and Director, which have not been bequeathed or given to or for the benefit of the nation, and which the Trustees and Director, or any three or more of them, as aforesaid, may adjudge to be unfit for or not required as part of the National Collection, be sold by public auction, and a detailed account of the monies arising therefrom shall be laid before Parliament in the annual report of the Trustees and Director; provided, that if it shall be deemed fit by the authorities aforesaid, with such consent as aforesaid, to sell any pictures which were not given or bequeathed to or for the benefit of the nation, but which have become part of the National Collection, and as such been exhibited in the National Gallery, copies of the order to make such sale, and of such consent thereto, shall be laid on the table of both Houses of Parliament six weeks previously to such sale.

Proceeds of sale.

II. The receipt of the person authorised by the said Trustees and Director to sell such pictures and works of art, shall be a sufficient discharge for the money arising from such sale, and such money shall be paid over by the person receiving the same into the Exchequer, and shall become part of the Consolidated Fund of Great Britain and Ireland.

III. All

III. All pictures and works of art which have already been or may hereafter be from time to time given or bequeathed to the public or to the nation, or given or bequeathed by words showing an intention that the gift or bequest should enure to or for the benefit of the public or the nation, shall (unless the donor or testator shall have made other provision for the care thereof) vest in and be under the care and ordering of the said Trustees and Director of the National Gallery; provided, that in each case of bequest the said Trustees and Director may select such of the pictures and works of art so bequeathed as they may deem fit to become part of the National Collection, and the remainder of the pictures and works of art comprised in such bequest, unless otherwise disposed of by any testamentary provision, shall become part of the residuary estate of the testator.

Pictures given to the Nation to vest in the Trustees and Director.

As to the Disposal of such Pictures as are bequeathed and not added to National Collection.

EXTRACT from the WILL of J. M. W. Turner, R.A., respecting two PICTURES now placed in the National Gallery.

"I GIVE and bequeath unto the 'Trustees and Directors for the time being of a certain Society or Institution, called the 'National Gallery' or Society, the following Pictures or Paintings by myself, namely, 'Dido Building Carthage,' and the Picture formerly in the De Tabley Collection. To hold the said Pictures or Paintings unto the said Trustees and Directors of the said Society for the time being, in trust for the said Institution or Society for ever, subject, nevertheless, to, for, and upon the following reservations and restrictions only, that is to say; I direct that the said Pictures or Paintings shall be hung, kept, and placed, that is to say, always between the two Pictures painted by Claude, 'The Seaport' and 'Mill,' and shall be from time to time properly cleaned, framed, preserved, repaired, and protected by the said Society; and in case the said Pictures or Paintings are not within twelve months next after my decease accepted and taken by the said Society, under and subject to the above regulations, restrictions and directions, and placed as directed, that then I will and direct that they shall be taken to and form part of the fixed property of the charity hereafter named," &c.

"And as to my finished Pictures, except the two mentioned in my Will, I give and bequeath the same unto the Trustees of the National Gallery, provided that a room or rooms are added to the present National Gallery, to be, when erected, called 'Turner's Gallery,' in which such Pictures are to be constantly kept deposited and preserved; and it is my wish that until such room or rooms be so erected that my said Pictures remain in my present gallery and house in Queen Anne-street," &c.

"Now I do hereby, as to the disposition of my finished Pictures, limit the time for offering the same as a gift to the Trustees of the National Gallery to the term of 10 years after my decease, and if the said Trustees of the said National Gallery shall not within the said space of 10 years have provided and constructed a room or rooms to be added to the National Gallery, that part thereof to be called 'Turner's Gallery,' then I declare the gift or offer of the said finished pictures to be null and void and of none effect; and in that case I direct the said pictures to be exhibited gratuitously by my Trustees and Executors during the existence of the lease of my present house and gallery, except the last two years of the said term, and then the said finished pictures are to be sold by my Trustees and Executors."

"HER MAJESTY'S Attorney-General by his counsel not claiming on the part of Her Majesty or of the Trustees of the National Gallery, any Pictures, Sketches, or Drawings which belonged to the said Testator, other than such as were his own work, or any Engravings, or any other part of the real or personal estate of the said Testator: This Court doth declare, by consent of all parties, by their counsel (except the plaintiffs, who by their counsel submit to act as this Court shall direct, and except the Attorney-general, who does not oppose the same), that all the Pictures, Drawings, and Sketches by the Testator's hand, without any distinction of finished or unfinished, are to be deemed as well given for the benefit of the public, and doth order that the same when selected and ascertained in manner hereafter mentioned be retained by the Trustees for the time being of the National Gallery accordingly. And it is ordered that Sir Charles Lock Eastlake, Knight, President of the Royal Academy, and John Prescott Knight, Royal Academician, and in case they disagree, an umpire to be named by them, by writing under their hands, be at liberty to select from the said Pictures, Drawings, and Sketches, now in the National Gallery pursuant to the order made in these causes, dated the 4th day of August 1854, such of the Pictures, Drawings, and Sketches as shall in their opinion have been painted, drawn, or sketched by the Testator's hand, without any distinction of finished or unfinished, such selection to be verified by affidavit, and all parties (except the plaintiffs, who by their counsel submit to act as this Court shall direct, and except the Attorney-general, who does not oppose the same) by their counsel consenting to abide by the selection of the said Sir Charles Lock Eastlake and John Prescott Knight, or in case they disagree, then by the selection of such umpire as aforesaid, and upon the additional probate duty (if any) and the legacy duty payable in respect of such Pictures, Drawings, and Sketches being paid or effectually released, and the sum of 181 l. 10 s., being one moiety of the expenses of removing the Testator's works of art to the place where they are now deposited, being repaid to the said executors, to be by them accounted for as part of the Testator's general estate: It is ordered that the Pictures, Drawings, and Sketches so to be selected be retained by the Trustees for the time being of the National Gallery, and this Court doth declare that the Trustees for the time being of the said National Gallery are entitled to hold the two Pictures, that is to say, 'Dido Building Carthage,' and the Picture formerly in the De Tabley Collection, now in their possession, under the order of the 26th day of July 1852, discharged from the agreement of the 12th day of November 1852, in the pleadings of these causes mentioned. COPY of TREASURY MINUTE, dated 8th April 1851.

READ letter from the Colonial Office, dated the 11th January last, transmitting a copy of a despatch from the officer administering the government at St. Helena, forwarding the estimates of revenue and expenditure of that island for the year 1851. It appears, from these estimates, that after deducting the sum of 1,350 l. from the estimated revenue for three-fourths of tonnage duty, to be reserved for the building of the new gaol, the colonial revenue will fall short of the expenditure by the sum of 717 l. 8 s. 8 d. The Acting-Governor also transmits a report and estimate from the civil engineer, showing the probable expense of repairing the public colonial buildings, roads, streets, bridges, &c. This estimate amounts to 2,724 l. 5 s. 7 d., while the only provision made on this account, in the estimate of expenditure, is a sum of 500 l. for works and buildings, and another sum of 300 l. for roads, streets and bridges, leaving a sum of nearly 2,000 l. to be provided. Lord Grey is of opinion that this repair of the buildings and the execution of the works specified by the civil engineer cannot be postponed; and his Lordship would recommend that provision to the extent of 2,000 l. should be made for them in the estimate to be submitted to Parliament for the island of St. Helena.

Read also letter from the Colonial Office, dated the 5th instant, stating, with reference to the above letter, and to the anticipated deficiency in the revenue as compared with the current expenditure, that Lord Grey is of opinion that a revision of the whole subject of the finance of the island should be made by the new Governor, with a view of equalizing the revenue and expenditure; and that there is not in the meantime sufficient information to determine upon the adjustment of any permanent deficiency which may have accrued. His Lordship is strongly of opinion that an effort should be made to derive the amount from the local revenue, rather than again apply to Parliament for the means of defraying the current expenditure of this colony; and if no other resource can be found, it may become a question whether the tonnage duties imposed for the erection of the gaol should not be afterwards prolonged, in order to discharge any debt incurred for the ordinary services of the colony.

Request Mr. Merivale will call the attention of Earl Grey to the Minute of this Board of Sess.) 1850.) the 20th April 1849, an extract of which accompanied the printed estimate of last Session, and to Mr. Merivale's letter of the 10th May 1849, in reply thereto.

State that my Lords do not consider that they should be justified in submitting to Parliament any vote for expenses at St. Helena of the description proposed in these papers, after the determination of the Government contained in the above minute of this Board, and formally communicated to Parliament, namely, that "as the average produce of the local revenue during several successive years, has exceeded 15,000 l. per annum, which ought to be fully sufficient to meet the ordinary expenses of the island government, it has appeared to my Lords that the charges to be provided for from home funds may for the future be very properly limited to the pensions assigned for the reduced officers, and other persons, of the late establishment of the East India Company, and to the aid which has been promised for making good any deficiency of the Widows' and Orphans' Pension Fund.

Their Lordships entirely concur with Lord Grey with respect to the measures to be taken for defraying for the future the current expenditure of the colony; and with regard to the proposed inquiry into the whole subject of the revenue and expenditure of the island; but they would suggest that this inquiry should embrace the expenditure of the last five years, as it appears from a statement recently prepared by the Commissioners of Audit, that considerable sums have been advanced from the Commissariat Chest within that period beyond the amount provided either from the local revenue or from the grants of Parliament.

Their Lordships have called upon the Commissioners of Audit for further details with respect to this expenditure, and as soon as the requisite information is received, they propose to transmit the same to Earl Grey, to be forwarded to the government of St. Helena, for inquiry on the spot into the exceeding which appears to have occurred.

Sir,

Downing-street, 17 December 1851.

WITH reference to your letters of the 10th of April and 26th of May last, calling for a full report upon the causes of the excess of expenditure incurred at St. Helena, since the years 1845 and 1846, I am directed by Earl Grey to transmit to you, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury, the copy of a despatch received from the Governor of that island, in answer to the reference made to him on this subject, forwarding a Return, showing the revenue and expenditure of St. Helena, and the excess of the expenditure in each year, ending 31 December, from 1837 to 1850 inclusive.

No. 53,

Sir C. E. Trevelyan, K. C. B.,
&c. &c. &c.

I am, &c.

(B. 1.)

(No. 53.)

My Lord,

St. Helena, 20 October 1851.

WITH reference to your Lordship's despatch, No. 4, dated 29th May 1851, directing me to furnish a full report upon the causes of the excess of expenditure incurred at St. Helena since 1845-46, the returns from the Audit Office of 26th April 1850 and 2d May 1851, which accompany your Lordship's despatch, include payments in England, Canada, the Cape of Good Hope, as well as St. Helena, of pensions awarded in 1836 by H. M. Government to the late servants of the E. I. Company, and also payments on account of the Widows' and Orphans' Fund, and special allowances granted by the E. I. Company. As these payments are not in the control of the local government, I have not thought it necessary to enter into explanation of them; but I submit herewith a return, showing the actual expenditure and receipts made in the colony since 1837, and the excess of expenditure in each year, made up from the annual returns forwarded to the Audit Board by the colonial auditor.

Return, Revenue and Expenditure.

1. From this return it will be seen that the excesses of 1846, 1847, 1848, 1849 appear large, as contrasted with the three previous years, 1843, 1844, 1845, but not so as compared with antecedent years from 1836. The advantage of those three years arises from the commutation of ground rents, which yielded an addition to the revenue for that period of 1,000*l.* per annum. When this source of revenue failed, the Establishment again necessarily became dependent on Parliamentary aid, as provided for in the existing instructions of Lord Glenelg to General Middlemore, dated 31st December 1835, which directs, "as regards the mode of providing for the civil charges of the Government, having ascertained the sum which will be required in aid of the local collections to make good the quarterly payments, you will address a requisition to the Commissary for that amount to be placed to the credit of the Colonial Fund, and held subject to the Treasurer's draft."

2. Independently of the loss of the commuted rents, there was a falling off of the Customs in 1846, as compared with the preceding year, of 1,070 l. 3*s.* 8½*d.*; and while the revenue thus showed a deficit of 2,000*l.* the expenditure, on the other hand, was increased by the payment of 1,000 l. to Captain O'Connor, for the purchase of his property as a site for the new Civil Hospital, and the expense of more than 600 l. temporary repairs to the wharf, which had been totally destroyed in 1846 by rollers.

3. Until the reduction of the Establishment, consequent on the receipt of your Lordship's despatch, No. 143, of 28th June 1849, enclosing Treasury minute of 23d June 1849, stating that it was "the intention of Her Majesty's Government that the expense of the colonial government and civil establishment of the island, from and after the 1st of April, should be defrayed by the local revenue," the expense of the Establishment amounted to about 15,000 l. per annum (exclusive of roads and buildings), thus exceeding the revenue in 1847 by about 500 l., and in 1849 by about 1,000 l.; in addition to which excess, the repairs amounted in 1847 to 2,402 l. 10*s.* 0½*d.*, in 1848 to 2,838 l. 0*s.* 11½*d.*, and in 1849 to 1,635 l. 7*s.* 4½*d.*, arising chiefly from the erection of the new Civil Hospital and the rebuilding of the wharf, each of which works cost nearly 4,000 l.

4. I have now only to add, that since these instructions were received, measures have been taken to ensure a revenue of 15,000 l. a year, and considerable reductions have been made in the Establishment, in order to reduce the expense of the colony in future within that amount.

I have, &c.

Gov^r.

Right Hon. the Earl Grey.

EXTRACT from Treasury Minute, dated 12 December 1856.

MR. WILSON calls the attention of the Board to the account of receipts into, and payments from, the Commissariat Chest to the 31st March 1855, which was laid before Parliament in the last Session (No. 205), in which advances are stated to have been made in St. Helena, in the four years ending 31 March 1851, which remain still unadjusted, amounting to £. 18,814. 17. 6½, viz. :

	£. s. d.
In 1847-48 - - - - -	1,166 13 -
1848-49 - - - - -	7,829 10 5
1849-50 - - - - -	5,137 3 1½
1850-51 - - - - -	4,681 11 -
	£. 18,814 17 6½

This exceeding upon the Grants of Parliament appears to have arisen from a misunderstanding on the part of the Governor of St. Helena of the permission given in 1835 to draw upon the Commissariat Chest for the funds required for the service of the colony.

Since 1849, the Grants for St. Helena have been limited to the amount payable for pensions to the late servants of the East India Company and others.

Some

Some of these pensions were payable in England, Canada, the Cape of Good Hope, and other places, but the Governor assumed that the whole amount of the Grant after providing for the pensions payable in St. Helena, was applicable to the service of the Colony, and continued to draw the supposed balance from the Commissariat Chest.

In April 1851, the Treasury peremptorily refused to provide any further amount to be expended for Colonial Services, and the Governor was directed to explain his proceedings.

His explanation is given in the Despatch printed on page 9.

It was at first intended to require that the amount thus improperly applied should be replaced from the funds of the Colony, but it was found impossible to obtain anything from that source, beyond what was absolutely required to meet the current expenditure, and the amount advanced has remained a charge upon the Commissariat Chest.

The Commissioners of Audit continue periodically to press the repayment of this advance, and there appears to be no alternative but to propose to Parliament to vote the sum required to replace to the Chest the sums thus irregularly obtained.

Let an Estimate for the sum of £.18,814. 17. 6. be prepared accordingly; and let such of the papers as may be necessary to explain the manner in which this exceeding upon the Grants has arisen, be laid before Parliament.

(1.)

Sir,

Downing-street, 11 May 1857.

I AM directed by Mr. Secretary Labouchere to transmit to you the enclosed copy of a despatch from the Governor of the Falkland Islands, reporting that he had taken it upon himself to enter into an agreement with the agent of the Falkland Islands Company, for the conveyance conveyance of a mail twice a month between Monte Video and the colony. A copy is also transmitted herewith of a report on the subject from the Emigration Commissioners.

I am desired to state that Mr. Labouchere feels extreme reluctance to recommend any addition to the demands upon Parliament on account of this colony, which hitherto has unfortunately remained so languishing and unprosperous. But so long as it is deemed necessary to the general policy of the empire to maintain a station there, it is obvious that one of the most essential elements of success must be the preservation of some means of easy and regular communication with Great Britain, and that if this be cut off, the colony must lose its only chance of ever attaining a more prosperous condition. On the whole, therefore, Mr. Labouchere feels it his duty to recommend their Lordships to sanction the contract which has been made by the Governor, and to provide upon the Parliamentary Estimate for the annual cost of five hundred pounds, since the local resources of the colony are wholly inadequate to defray that amount.

17 January 1857.

Sir,

I HAVE the honour to inform you that I have, in accordance with the permission contained in Sir G. Grey's despatch, No. 1, of 27th June 1854, entered into an agreement with Mr. Havers, on behalf of the corporation of the Falkland Islands Company, for the conveyance of a regular two monthly mail between Monte Video and the colony, on condition of an annual payment of 500 l.

2. The terms of the contract are very nearly the same as those of the Amelia, which performed the service from May 1852 to May 1854. The only important distinction being, that I have inserted a clause obliging the contractor to carry, on my requisition, a limited quantity of freight at a fixed rate. This proviso has become doubly necessary, in order to prevent the exorbitant charges that have usually been placed upon goods brought on freight (as, for instance, in the case of the oil for the light-house, where 2 l. a ton was paid), and also to counteract, to a certain extent, the rigid monopoly of the Monte Videan trade, which the mail contract would throw into the hands of the Falkland Islands Company.

3. The contract, of which I annex a copy, is at present in force; but as Mr. Havers felt himself bound to submit the duration of it for the approval of his employers, I have thought it well to reserve a like power of veto on the part of Her Majesty.

I have, &c.
(signed) Thos. Moore,
Governor.

Right Hon. H. Labouchere, M. P.

Articles of agreement made and entered into this 5th day of January, in the year of our Lord 1857, between Thomas Havers, Esq., on behalf of the corporation of the Falkland Islands Company of the one part, and Captain Thomas Edward Laws Moore, Governor of the Falkland Islands, on the part of Her Majesty, of the other part.

1. The contractor, in consideration of the payment hereinafter stipulated to be made, agrees with the said Governor as follows: That he shall and will, at his own cost, during the continuance of this contract, diligently, faithfully, and with all possible speed, convey all such of Her Majesty's mails, or bags of letters and despatches as the said Governor, or Her Britannic Majesty's consul at Monte Video, shall from time to time require to be conveyed once each way every other calendar month between Monte Video and Stanley, by means of a good, substantial and efficient vessel of not less than 70 tons burden, commanded by an efficient master, fully equipped and manned, to be approved by the said Governor, or such person as he may appoint in that behalf.

2. That the vessel employed in the performance of this contract shall make her first voyage on the 19th of this present month, and proceed direct from Stanley to Monte Video, and vice versa; and that she shall not on this or any voyage under this contract, while the mails are on board, call at any intermediate port, stress of weather, unavoidable accident, or the interference of any foreign state only excepted.

3. That the said vessel shall be prepared to leave Stanley on the 19th of every alternate month unless otherwise directed, and Monte Video within 48 hours of the arrival of the mail from England, and shall make no delay beyond the time so fixed, provided the said mails and despatches have been delivered to the master of the vessel; provided also, that should the mail not have arrived at Monte Video within seven days from the date at which it is due, the said vessel shall be at liberty to return to Stanley with such other mails as may then be ready for transmission.

4. That the contractor shall provide freight to the extent of eight tons each voyage for such goods as the Governor may direct to be carried, at a contract price of 30 s. per ton weight or measurement; provided, that if no such requisition be made the contractor shall be at liberty to fill his vessel on such terms as he may think fit.

5. That the mails and despatches shall be taken on board and landed at the cost of the contractor, by the master of the vessel, in a boat proper for the purpose, and shall, without any loss of time, be received from, and delivered without charge to, the officers or agents of the Governor at Stanley and Consul at Monte Video, by the master himself of the said vessel for the time being employed in the said service, a receipt being given and taken for the same.

6. And the said Governor, in consideration of the services hereby agreed to be performed, doth engage to pay to the said contractor, by way of compensation, the sum of 500 l. per annum, to be paid half-yearly by cash or by bill on Her Majesty's Treasury, as the Governor may direct.

7. And it is hereby agreed, that the duration of this contract shall be deemed and taken to be three years from the date hereof: provided always, that after the expiration of the first six months it shall be competent for either party to determine and put an end to the said contract on giving to the other party six months' notice in writing of his intention so to do; and provided always, that such contract shall meet with the approval of Her Majesty and of the Board of Directors of the Corporation of the Falkland Islands Company.

8. And lastly, for the due and faithful performance of this contract, and every part thereof, the said Thomas Havers, Esq., on behalf of the Falkland Islands Company, doth hereby bind the estate and effects of the said Company unto our Sovereign Lady the Queen, in the sum of 200 l. sterling.

In witness whereof, the said parties have hereunto set their hands, at Government House, Stanley, Falkland Islands, this 5th day of January 1857.

Thos. Havers,

Colonial Manager, Stanley, of the Corporation of Falkland Islands Company.

(3.)

Sir,

Emigration Office, 8 April 1857.

WE have to acknowledge your letter of the 28th ult., enclosing for our report, a correspondence with the Governor of the Falkland Islands, relative to the renewal of the mail communication between those islands and Monte Video.

2. In 1852 a contract was made with the Falkland Islands Company for the conveyance of the mails between the Falkland Islands and Monte Video, for a payment of 700 l. a year. That contract terminated on the 1st May 1854, at the request of the Company, but the inhabitants having expressed a strong desire that some other similar arrangement should be made, Sir G. Grey authorised the Governor to effect such an arrangement, if he could do so, at an annual charge of not more than 500 l. The arrangement contemplated at that time, was the conveyance of the mails to Rio instead of Monte Video, in the vessels of a private trader settled in the islands; but we presume that this could not be brought to bear.

3. The Governor now reports having concluded a new arrangement with the Falkland Islands Company, for the conveyance of the mails as before, between Monte Video and the Falkland Islands, once every month,* for an annual payment of 500 l., in consideration of which he is also to have the right to occupy eight tons of freight in the vessel. The principal difference between the present and the former contract is, that the vessel to be now employed is only 70 tons burthen, whereas the vessel formerly employed was 160 tons. Considering how very few vessels ever touch at the Falkland Islands in going out, and that the colony would, therefore, have nothing but rare and irregular communication with the mother country but for the proposed mail packet, it is obviously of the last importance to it that this arrangement should be sanctioned. But it is our duty to point out, that since Sir G. Grey's despatch to Governor Rennie, of the 27th June 1854, the Falkland Islands Company have been allowed to reduce their annual payments, by extending them over a longer period; and it may, therefore, be doubtful whether there are now the means of making an annual payment of 500 l. for the conveyance of the mails, without an application to Parliament. Upon that point, however, we have not the information necessary to enable us to express an opinion, and we content ourselves, therefore, with submitting it for Mr. Labouchere's consideration.

COPY of a TREASURY MINUTE, dated 15 May 1857.

WRITE to Mr. Merivale, for the information of Mr. Labouchere, that in consideration of his representation as to the importance to the interests of the colony, of having a direct and regular communication with Great Britain, and to the inability of the colony to provide funds for that purpose, my Lords are pleased to sanction the arrangement which has been entered into between Captain Moore and the Falkland Islands Company, and will cause the insertion in the Estimates about to be submitted to Parliament, of a sum of 500 l. for the service in question for the ensuing year. My Lords wish it, however, to be understood, that in sanctioning the proceedings of the Governor of the Falkland Islands they must refrain from making any sort of engagement beyond the period of the present contract; at the conclusion of which the question of any future assistance to the colony will have to be considered with reference to the success which may attend the present measure.

John Ball.

Sir,

Downing-street, 26 November 1856.

I AM directed by Mr. Secretary Labouchere to transmit to you, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury, the enclosed copy of a despatch from the Governor of Labuan, reporting upon the financial condition and prospects of the Colony entrusted to his government.

This Colony was occupied because, from the circumstance of its containing an exceedingly fine harbour, and also mines of coal, it was hoped that the possession of it might prove beneficial to commerce, and especially useful to steam navigation in the China Seas. The island is of small dimensions, not exceeding ten miles in its greatest length. A Company was established for the purpose of working the coal, and had their exertions been attended with success, a moderate royalty on that article would have sufficed to defray the very limited Government Establishment which has been created at this place. But, unfortunately, the Company has not hitherto been successful. Although there undoubtedly is abundance of coal, and it has been found to be well suited to use in steam vessels, the vein first discovered, and which is the one conceded to the Company, is situated at the other end of the island from the harbour, and they have also been exposed to great difficulty from the quantity of water in their works. They have now sent out more powerful steam-engines, together with a manager of skill and experience, and they express great hopes of being able to raise and dispose of much larger supplies than heretofore.

A vein of coal has also been recently discovered within a short distance of the harbour, which has been described as one of first-rate qualities, both for security and facilities of landing and shipping stores.

The population at the date of the latest statistical reports, exclusive of a small detachment of sepoys and their officers, consisted only of about 13 Europeans, being the public officers and the servants of the Company, and somewhat less than 2,000 people of the Chinese and Malay races. Excepting a direct tax on some articles of Chinese consumption, and a few insignificant fees and proceeds from land, there are no means of raising a revenue except the royalty on coal; for it undoubtedly would be impolitic as well as useless to discourage trade, by trying to levy any duties on shipping or imported goods.

The present report from the Governor shows that it will be impossible to retain the Island without once more applying to Parliament for aid. A schedule is annexed showing the amount of the annual grants from Parliament during the first seven years of the existence of the Colony. During the last two years no vote has been taken, but it is found impossible to continue the Colony any longer without assistance.

Such being the facts of the case, it may become a grave question whether this Island should not hereafter be relinquished rather than retain it as a permanent burthen on the Imperial Treasury. Seeing, however, the great facility and encouragement which it may still afford to trade in the China Seas if the coal can be successfully worked and rendered available for the steam navigation of those waters, Mr. Labouchere cannot think that Her Majesty's Government ought to desist from the experiment without some further trial. He would recommend therefore that the whole case should be submitted to Parliament in the approaching Session, and application be made for the requisite means of maintaining the settlement, but with a distinct intimation at the same time to the Governor of the Colony and to the Company that, unless within a very few years the Colony can be rendered more productive and useful to British Trade, Her Majesty's Government will feel bound to consider the question of its abandonment.

Supposing that this course is to be taken, the next point to determine is the amount of the Estimate to be submitted to Parliament. This will require to include a provision both for arrears and for the future.

As to arrears, the Governor sends a statement exhibiting a deficiency of between 500*l.* and 600*l.*, for which he hopes that he has sufficiently provided by bills which he has drawn on the Treasury for 500*l.* But then this statement extends only to the 31st of December 1856, whilst the provision to be asked from Parliament in arrear will reach to the 31st of March 1857. Again, the Governor reckons on upwards of 400*l.* from the Company, whereas the fact that their works have been so much obstructed by water, gives reason to apprehend that they may have scarcely paid any royalty. Mr. Labouchere apprehends therefore that the provision for arrears should not be less than 1,000*l.*

With regard to the future, he fears that somewhat more than 2,000*l.* will be requisite in order to afford adequate assistance. It appears better to submit a vote for salaries of the Government officers than for public works or fluctuating expenditure, because these last can then be regulated by the Colonial Government according to the state of its local revenue.

Mr. Labouchere annexes a sketch of an Estimate formed upon these principles, and he would suggest that, if it meet with the concurrence of the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury,

Treasury, it should be laid before Parliament, with a full and unreserved explanation of the circumstances which have rendered it necessary, and of the views for the future with which it is proposed for adoption.

Sir, Treasury Chambers, 15 December 1856.
With reference to your letter of the 26th ult. on the subject of the financial condition of the Government of Labuan, I am commanded by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to acquaint you, for the information of Mr. Secretary Labouchere, that my Lords regret the necessity of again applying to Parliament for a grant on account of the expenditure for that Colony.

They concur in the opinion expressed by Mr. Labouchere as to the inexpediency of abandoning the settlement at present. They also approve of the Estimate as prepared under his direction; but they think it right to state that the grants for Labuan have been overdrawn to the extent of 1,564*l.*, principally, as they believe, in consequence of the loss by exchange on the bills drawn for the service of the Colony.

I am also to state that their Lordships have called upon the Commissioners of Audit for further information in regard to this exceeding upon the sums voted by Parliament, and they will communicate the result to Mr. Labouchere.

It will probably be necessary to provide also for this charge in the Estimate to be submitted to Parliament in the ensuing Session, and it will be very desirable to furnish at the same time full explanations of the causes which have led to the demand to be now made upon Imperial funds on account of Labuan.

Herman Merivale, Esq.

Sir, Downing-street, 12 January 1857.
With reference to my letter of the 26th of November, I am directed by Mr. Secretary Labouchere to transmit to you the accompanying further Despatch from the Governor of Labuan, reporting that he has drawn a bill for 500*l.* on the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury, and I am to recommend that under the circumstances of the case this bill should be paid.

The position of Labuan has evidently become such, that if not abandoned, it must be supported by assistance from this country; I am at the same time to state, that in order to provide for the probable exigencies of the service in this colony, Mr. Labouchere proposes to apply to Parliament for a vote of 1,500*l.* instead of 1,000*l.* for arrears, in addition to the sum of 2,117*l.* to be asked as an aid for defraying the expenses of the Colonial Government in the approaching financial year.

Sir, Downing-street, 19 May 1857.
I HAVE received your despatch, No. 2, of the 8th of December, accompanied by the Colonial Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the year 1857.

I approve of the clear and frank account which you have presented of the state of the colony. At the same time, I need scarcely say that I have perused with much regret such unfavourable intelligence of its condition and prospects.

Your report exhibits extensive sickness, calling for drainage which the colony is too poor to execute; public buildings falling into decay, for want of necessary repairs; and, finally, a land-slip which has damaged the works and buried some of the coal of the Archipelago Company. You inform me that the fever is peculiarly fatal to Chinamen, so that has driven away some of the Chinese settlers, and has kept away other native settlers whose presence would be of advantage.

These statements are discouraging; but you are aware, from my previous despatches, of the principle which I think must guide Her Majesty's Government in dealing with the present state of Labuan. I view the establishment of that colony as an experiment undertaken for important commercial objects, and which ought to have a complete trial; although, at the end of that trial, it should be relinquished if it remains clearly unsuccessful. Acting on this view, I cannot doubt that Parliament will not withhold a small grant towards the expenses of draining, indispensable to the health, and even the lives, of the inhabitants. I shall therefore recommend an addition for this object of about five hundred pounds to the amount of the Parliamentary Estimate previously announced to you. I find that the whole sum granted by Parliament for Labuan, since its commencement in the year 1848, is, in round numbers, thirty-nine thousand four hundred pounds. The estimate now to be proposed, including three thousand pounds for arrears, will be five thousand seven hundred pounds, making a total of forty-five thousand one hundred pounds. It may very probably not be thought right to persevere in the attempt beyond the year 1859. If within that time it should prove successful, and really afford an available supply of coal for steam navigation in this portion of the China seas, the benefit will be great. If, on the contrary, the experiment shall finally prove a failure, it may still be thought that an expenditure of imperial funds, which will not amount to 50,000*l.* at the end of 11 years, may not have been an extravagant outlay on an experiment which, if it had prospered, would have conferred important advantages on British commerce and navigation.

DISTRESSED EMIGRANTS IN CANADA, &c.

Two Thousand One Hundred and Seventy-five Pounds.

BALANCE due to the COMMISSARIAT CHEST on account of Emigration Expenses on the final Settlement of the Accounts, viz.:

Balance on account of Emigration, New Brunswick -	2,098	14	9
Ditto - - - ditto - - Canada - - - - -	76	6	4
£.	2,175	1	1

THE accompanying Statement shows the necessity of this Vote.

A sum of 130,965 l. was voted in 1848 to defray expenses incurred in Canada, &c., for the relief of distressed emigrants from the United Kingdom. Payments to the amount of 113,502 l. 13 s. 4 d. had been made from this fund previously to 1853, and no further claims appearing, it was assumed (incorrectly, as has subsequently been ascertained), that the balance of 17,462 l. 6 s. 8 d. would not be required, and that sum was accordingly stated to Parliament in 1853 as a saving upon the grant.

In the following year, upon the final adjustment of this and other accounts with the Government of Canada, it appeared that a sum of about 10,500 l. was still due to Canada, and a Vote was taken in 1855 for that amount.

The precise sum could not be ascertained at the time that the Estimate upon which the Vote was taken was printed, and it now appears that the further sum of 76 l. 6 s. 4 d. is required to balance that portion of the account.

Some misunderstanding appears to have arisen at the Audit Office in regard to the accounts for this service, and it was not until the 23d July 1856 that the Commissioners of Audit reported to the Treasury the state of the balances. Some further correspondence has since taken place, and the result is stated in the present report, showing that there is still due to the Commissariat Chest on account of Emigration expenses—

REPORT of the Governors and Guardians of the LYING-IN HOSPITAL, DUBLIN.

THE Lying-in Hospital was founded by the late Dr. Mosse, in 1756, and obtained a charter of incorporation.

Since its foundation it has afforded relief, on an average, to 2,000 annually of the most destitute poor women of this city and neighbourhood, and occasionally from the provinces, the class of persons relieved being the wives of poor artisans, distressed citizens, soldiers, sailors, labourers, and others, many of whom, although able to support themselves and families by their daily labour, are yet totally destitute of the necessary accommodation, medicines, attendance, and comforts required in their confinements, and which this hospital so amply affords to them in their time of need. Every distressed and helpless mother who presents herself, and is properly recommended as an object for relief (poverty being the great recommendation), is at once received into this hospital, and watched over by the medical attendants until discharged in a fit state to return to her home and resume the duties of her family. There are 134 beds in the hospital, and 12 are exclusively appropriated to the diseases of females.

The income of this hospital is derived from the following sources: Parliamentary grant, interest on funded property, rents of houses, subscriptions and donations, profits on Rotunda Rooms and Gardens, which are let for public meetings, entertainments, &c. The certain yearly income is only 700 l., and the casual income about 1,120 l. on an average.

In the year 1790, the Governors were authorised by Act of 29 & 30 Geo. 3, to borrow 11,000 l. Irish, on debentures at four per cent., in order to complete the building of the Rotunda Rooms, the interest upon which, amounting to 406 l. British per annum, they were for a long period enabled to pay out of the tax they received (under 25 Geo. 3, c. 43) from the owners of private sedan chairs; but by degrees this duty ceased to exist, and has not for many years produced any income, and the interest on those debentures has, since 1803, been regularly paid out of the annual grant received from Parliament, the Governors having no other fund from which they could by possibility pay the same.

By the continued efforts of the Governors to reduce the expenses of the establishment to the lowest point consistent with its usefulness, they have been enabled to make a much lower estimate for some years past than that of former years, and have also been enabled to admit all patients who are properly recommended as suitable. It will appear by the Estimate, that a sum of nearly 900 l. would be required for the year 1858.

An abstract of the income and expenditure of the hospital for the year ended 31 March 1856, together with a statement of the cases relieved, accompanies this report.

Signed by order,

Lying-in Hospital, Dublin,
10 November 1856.

J. G. Strickland,
Regr & Secy.

To the Honourable the Commons of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in Parliament assembled.

The Petition of the Governors and Guardians of the Hospital for the Relief of Poor Lying-in Women in the City of Dublin.

Humbly sheweth,

THAT the institution of which your petitioners are the Governors and Guardians has been established by Royal Charter for many years, for the relief of poor lying-in women in the city of Dublin.

That said institution is, in a great measure, supported by the bounty of your Honourable House.

Petitioners therefore humbly implore this Honourable House to grant such sum for the support of the Lying-in Hospital for one year, as to them in their wisdom shall seem meet.

And petitioners will pray.

Lying-in Hospital, Dublin,
7 November 1856.

Henry Pakenham,
Chairman.

THE COOMBE LYING-IN HOSPITAL, DUBLIN.

ESTIMATE for the Year ending the 31st day of March 1858, of the Sum proposed to be Voted for the COOMBE LYING-IN HOSPITAL, DUBLIN.

TO the Right Honourable and Honourable the Knights, Burgesses and Citizens of Great Britain and Ireland, in Parliament assembled.

The Petition of the Governors of the Coombe Lying-in Hospital, in the City of Dublin.

Humbly sheweth,

THAT your petitioners are the managers of the Coombe Lying-in Hospital, which was founded in the city of Dublin, in the year 1826, for the relief of poor lying-in women resident in the Earl of Meath's Liberties and surrounding neighbourhood, which is the largest and poorest district in the Irish metropolis.

That this hospital has been supported during the last 30 years by voluntary subscriptions, by the proceeds of a few small legacies, and by a presentment annually made by the Town Council of Dublin, equal in amount to the sums contributed from private sources.

That the resources of the institution have always proved insufficient to meet the demands upon it for relief; that consequently your petitioners have been most unwillingly compelled to limit the number of admissions somewhat in proportion to the annual amount at their disposal; but that they have occasionally felt themselves constrained, during periods of great public distress, to extend the number of admissions, and have thus been sometimes burdened with heavy debt, which they have subsequently found most difficult to liquidate; and that in this way their present debts amount to nearly 150 l.

That the Commissioners recently appointed to inspect the Dublin Hospitals, and to inquire into their condition, have reported most favourably of this Hospital, and have recommended that a Parliamentary grant be annually made towards its maintenance.

That an estimate of the probable expenditure of the Hospital for the year ending 31 March 1858, together with a return of the number of patients attended in connexion with the institution, for the twelve months last past, have been forwarded to your Honourable House, along with this Petition.

Your Petitioners therefore humbly pray your Honourable House to take into your favourable consideration the foregoing facts, and to make them a grant towards the maintenance of this important branch of the Medical School of Dublin, for the year ending 31 March 1858; and your petitioners will ever pray.

On behalf of the Governors,

Fergus Farrell, Lord Mayor.
James West, High Sheriff, Dublin City.
Richard Atkinson, Lord Mayor Elect.

And 19 others.

In preparing the foregoing Estimate, the Board have endeavoured to bring it as nearly as possible within the sum suggested as the proportion of the general vote to be appropriated to this Institution by the Commissioners of Inquiry, viz. 7,600 l. The salaries, it will be observed, are on a low scale, and the estimated cost per bed is not larger than is necessary for the maintenance of 312 medical and surgical patients. If the Board is constrained to limit the expenditure to the lesser sum, it will only remain for them to restrict the number of admissions in such manner, and at such periods of the year, as they may find most practicable.

Talbot de Malahide, Chairman of the Board of Superintendence of Dublin Hospitals.

Dublin, 7 January 1857.

Note—The Treasury, by Minute, declined acceding to this proposition, and have limited the vote to the amount recommended by the Commissioners of Inquiry, viz., 7,600 l.

Admitted - - - 2,204; Discharged - - - 2,067; Died - - - 142.

The measures taken to obtain for the Institution the greatest possible amount of aid by private contributions are, the publication of an Annual Medical Report, which is widely circulated, and the monthly insertions in Saunders' News Letter of an Advertisement stating the Number of Admissions, Discharges, and Deaths, and present state of the Hospital at time of advertisement.

The Managing Committee of Cork-street Fever Hospital respectfully request the attention of the Lords of the Treasury to the Reports of the Commissioners of Inquiry into Charitable Institutions in Dublin, in 1842, for the fullest details as to the object, management, utility, and general advantage derived to the public from this Institution.

NINTH REPORT of ST. MARK'S OPHTHALMIC HOSPITAL and DISPENSARY for DISEASES of the EYE and EAR, Lincoln-place, Dublin, 1854-1855.

IN affording to the subscribers of St. Mark's Hospital their Ninth Annual Report, the managing committee feel great pleasure in being able to announce a progressive increase in the funds of the institution, as well as in its field of usefulness. The merits of this institution, which have been long appreciated by the public, have been recently recognised by the State; for, since the publication of the last Report, it has been endowed by a Parliamentary grant, which, while it enables the committee greatly to extend the benefits of the charity, also shows that it has been acknowledged as one of the necessary medical institutions of the country, both as a portion of the Irish school of medicine, and an institution for the treatment of a class of diseases which have of late years become of more than ordinary frequency in this portion of the United Kingdom. The Commissioners appointed by the Lord Lieutenant to inquire into the state of the Hospitals of Dublin, having visited and carefully examined into the circumstances of the establishment, have thus reported upon it:—"We consider a special Ophthalmic institution to be highly valuable as a means of enabling medical students to acquire a more accurate knowledge of the diseases of the eye and of their treatment, than can usually be obtained at general hospitals, and also of alleviating the suffering which prevails to a great extent in this country. Considering this institution to be deserving of support on public grounds, we recommend that a grant of 100*l.* be given to it." This recommendation, seconded by his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, has since been carried into effect by the Government, and the first instalment for the year 1856 has been paid.

We have also the satisfaction of reporting, that in the newly-erected Ophthalmic Hospital at New York, the operating theatre was constructed upon the model of that in this institution. See New York "Daily Times," for 2d November 1855.

For the year ending the 1st October 1855, there were 114 patients treated in the wards of the institution—71 males, and 43 females; 2,427 persons received medicine and advice at the dispensary during the same period—1,337 males, and 1,090 females; besides 367 renewals from month to month; and 180 operations were performed. Of these patients, 1,933 were affected with diseases of the eye, and 494 with those of the ear. Subjoined to this Report will be found tables showing, in classified arrangement, the foregoing facts:

When the accounts for 1854 were audited, there was a balance in the treasurer's hands of 135*l.* 15*s.* 5*d.* The income during the past year has been 410*l.* 17*s.* 9*d.*, including a sum of 68*l.* 5*s.*, a balance of the grant made by the corporation in September 1853; thus, the total available fund for the institution, for the year 1855, has been 546*l.* 14*s.* 2*d.* The subscriptions and donations have amounted to 166*l.* 1*s.*, including a grant of 40*l.* from the trustees of Bishop Sterne's Charities. The strictest economy has been observed as to the internal management of the institution, yet the expenditure has amounted to 300*l.* 1*s.* 1*d.* In accordance with a vote of the committee, passed in January 1855, a portion of the balance of the former account was set apart as a "reserve fund," with which to increase the hospital accommodation so soon as means could be permanently secured to support an additional number of patients. The Parliamentary grant, already alluded to, has determined the committee to enlarge the accommodation for in-door patients by opening a third ward; but without the continued and increased assistance of the public at large, their efforts to extend the usefulness of this institution must fall far short of their ultimate hopes. They would in particular address themselves to the nobility, gentry, and clergy resident in the country, who are in the habit of recommending patients to St. Mark's Hospital. It might also be a matter for the consideration of Boards of Guardians whether it would not ultimately prove a saving to unions to forward to this institution some of the numerous blind inmates of workhouses, provided the medical officers of such considered them likely to be benefited by treatment in an hospital specially devoted to the treatment of the organs of sight.

The committee have again earnestly to request that benevolent individuals, wishing to procure admission for poor persons from distant parts of the country, will first inquire from competent authority in their own localities whether such patients are likely to be benefited by treatment. The committee are induced to repeat this advice from the circumstance of many poor people having been sent to Dublin for medical advice by benevolent persons, for whom there was not the slightest chance of restoration to sight. It is also requisite that means should be provided for the removal of pauper patients from hospital when necessary.

The committee have to report upon the very efficient state of the hospital and dispensary in all its departments.

The dispensary is open on the mornings of Tuesdays and Fridays, from 10 o'clock until 12. Operations are performed at 11 o'clock on Wednesdays. Accidents are attended at all times.

Donations and subscriptions will be thankfully received at the banks of Messrs. La Touche & Co., and Messrs. Boyle, Low, Pim, & Co.; by the Secretary, William Longfield, Esq., 19, Harcourt-street; by the Medical Attendant, W. R. Wilde, Esq., 1, Merrion-square, North, or by any of the Committee.

10 September 1856.

William Longfield,
Secretary.

Doctor Steevens' Hospital, Dublin,
18 November 1856.

Sir,

AGREEABLE to your directions, I beg leave to enclose the estimate, in duplicate, of the probable income and expenditure of Doctor Steevens' Hospital for the year ending 31st March 1858, and the report required by the Treasury Minute of the 2nd July 1844.

Separate wards are still allocated to venereal male patients of the worst class, according to the desire of Government, rendered necessary by the closing of the Lock Hospital against that class of patients.

I have, &c.

Right Hon. E. Horsman,
Dublin Castle.

(signed) Finlay W. Cusack, R. D. R.

TO the Right Honourable and Honourable the Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland in Parliament assembled.

The Petition of the Governors and Guardians of the Hospital founded by Doctor
Richard Steevens, in the City of Dublin,

Humbly sheweth,

THAT in consequence of increasing necessities of the sick poor, your petitioners were induced to submit to this Honourable House the expediency of extending the accommodation of this hospital, to afford relief to the numerous applicants for admission; and for this purpose thirty additional beds were estimated for, and the provision granted by this Honourable House, in the Session of 1812, which made up a total of 148 beds, and which have been constantly occupied; and your petitioners have the gratification to state that the above extension of accommodation has been most productive, and of the most material relief.

That your petitioners, in submitting their present wants to this Honourable House, beg to observe, that in consequence of the diminished income, both from the estates of the hospital and Parliamentary grant, they have been compelled to close some wards of the institution, to the great distress of the suffering poor.

Your petitioners, in humble confidence on their exertions, submit the premises to this Honourable House, and pray for such aid as Parliament in its wisdom may be pleased to grant.

MEMORANDUM in Explanation of the ESTIMATES for MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS in DUBLIN, and for Charitable Allowances (Ireland).

THE Commissioners of Inquiry into the conditions and regulations of medical institutions in the city of Dublin, appointed in 1855 in pursuance of the recommendation of a Committee of the House of Commons in 1854, recommended the following annual grants:—

	£.	s.	d.
To the Westmoreland Lock Hospital - - - - -	2,600	-	-
„ Rotunda Lying-in Hospital - - - - -	700	-	-
„ Coombe - - - ditto (not previously receiving any grant) -	200	-	-
„ House of Industry Hospitals - - - - -	7,600	-	-
„ Cork-street Fever Hospital - - - - -	2,500	-	-
„ Steveens' Hospital - - - - -	1,300	-	-
„ Meath Hospital - - - - -	600	-	-
„ St. Mark's Ophthalmic Hospital (not previously receiving any grant) - - - - -	100	-	-
£. 15,600	-	-	-

Some of these grants were recommended subject to suggestions of changes in the management or regulations of the hospitals, or in the buildings belonging to them.

In

In the case of the House of Industry Hospitals, as the government of the entire institution called the House of Industry was regulated by Act of Parliament, it was necessary that a new Act should be passed before the recommendations of the Commissioners could be carried into effect; and accordingly the necessary provisions were made by 19 & 20 Vict. c. 110, which also placed all the hospitals receiving Parliamentary grants under the control of a Board of Superintendence.

The governors of the several hospitals, in which changes had been recommended, having taken such steps in compliance with those recommendations as were deemed satisfactory by the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury, the amount of the difference in each case between the sum voted last year (which was the same as in 1855) and the annual grant recommended by the Commissioners was advanced from the Vote for "Civil Contingencies," to be repaid out of the Grant in the present year. A similar advance of the amount recommended was made to the two hospitals (Coombe Lying-in and St. Mark's Ophthalmic), to which no grant had been previously made. In the case of the Westmoreland Lock Hospital the amount of the difference between the Vote of last year and the Grant recommended was required for improvements of the hospital building, which the Commissioners of Public Works will execute.

The Estimate for each of the above-named hospitals, therefore, includes the amount for 1857-58 recommended by the Commissioners of Inquiry, and the sum advanced in 1856-57 in addition to the Vote for that year.

An Estimate is added for the expenses of the Board of Superintendence; the amount of this, and the preceding Estimates, leaves a small balance unapplied of the sum of 16,000*l., recommended by the Committee in 1854 to be appropriated to hospitals in Dublin. The Estimate for the Hospital for Incurables, which, as its name implies, is rather of a benevolent than of a curative character, is, in compliance with the recommendations both of the Committee of 1854 and of the Commissioners of Inquiry, included in the general Estimate for Charitable Allowances, of which the first item is the "Concordatum," and in which the Grant to the Meath Hospital (now transferred to the list of Dublin hospitals) was formerly comprised. The usual Grant for the Female Orphan House is placed in the same general Estimate. The Estimate for Charitable Allowances also includes the expense of maintaining, in a separate lunatic asylum, the lunatics and idiots now in the Hardwicke cells of the House of Industry, that establishment being about to be abolished, in conformity with the recommendation of the Commissioners, and the building appropriated to the purposes of the hospitals. These persons were (with few exceptions) inmates of the House of Industry before the existence of the Irish Poor-law, under which that institution was placed under the control of the Poor Law Commissioners, but supported, as previously, by Parliamentary grant. Most of them being old, death has rapidly reduced their number, which is at present 104.† They cannot be received into any of the district asylums, and an arrangement has been made for placing them in a separate asylum, under the care of the present Governor of the House of Industry, and subject to the supervision of the Inspectors of Lunatic Asylums. The income arising from bequests to the House of Industry is proposed to be applied in aid of this Grant.‡ The only other charge transferred to the general Estimate for Charitable Allowances is the expense of the invalids belonging to the late Foundling Hospital, who reside with families in the country, and have been hitherto inspected by the Governor of the House of Industry, who receives an allowance to meet his expenses. They will henceforth be inspected by the Poor Law Inspectors of the unions in which they reside. The rent of the estate belonging to the Foundling Hospital will be applied in aid of the annual Grant.‡

† In the House of Industry Estimate for 1856-57 some of these are included in the number stated to be at Island Bridge, the rest of whom have been removed to the Richmond District Lunatic Asylum.

‡ In both these cases there are balances unexpended, which will render any Grant for 1857-58 unnecessary.

DURING the year ending the 31st March 1856, there have been 2,215 cases vaccinated and 19,633 charges of vaccine lymph distributed; the issue exceeding that of the year preceding by between 6,000 and 7,000 charges.

The explanation of this increased demand is to be found in a wide-spreading unwillingness on the part of the people (and that not merely confined to the poor) to permit, in cases of successful vaccination, lymph to be taken from the vesicle; and, the more surely to carry out their determination of not having the vaccinated arm interfered with, the parents either do not bring the children back at all, or, if they do return, they are found not to present themselves till the twelfth day or later—a period when the contained matter is no longer available for inoculation. The consequences, to the public, of this prejudice and negligence are, firstly—A great uncertainty as regards the success of the operation generally; and, secondly, a withholding of the material, so as to render it impossible to keep up a local stock of recent lymph; a desideratum of the utmost importance with respect to the furtherance of successful vaccination.

The Directors, from information received through many sources, are, with regret, compelled to state, that the prejudice in favour of inoculation with small-pox virus still extensively prevails; and that the arrangements, by joint concert, between the hiring inoculators and the parents of the too often victims of this practice, are so ingeniously contrived as to elude detection, and render it almost impossible to press a case to conviction. The only remedy for this grievance—fraught with so much danger to the public at large—is to be found in adopting whatever means shall be deemed most effective for the carrying out of a scheme of complete and carefully superintended vaccination, whether, as is contemplated, by compulsion, or, as has been previously adopted, by remunerating the medical attendants of dispensaries for their labours in this department.

Compulsion is, in itself, at all times more or less disagreeable; but when, as in the present case, it happens that the educated and illiterate are found acting in combination, it becomes a subject of grave consideration, if such a mode of proceeding be not imperatively demanded.

The recent revival of old and obsolete objections affords additional evidence in favour of the necessity for some decided measures being adopted in order to secure the most rigid attention to vaccination, as well on the part of the public as on that of the profession. And here the Directors would suggest (pending the adoption of more effectual means) the revival of the deposit system, which they have found to answer so well in connexion with this institution, and since the suppression of which—as asserted in the communications received from the body of dispensary physicians at large—it has been found utterly impossible to carry on, even an imperfect vaccination throughout the country.

The Directors have no reason to entertain any diminished confidence in the generally protective influence of vaccination, when the vaccinia has passed regularly through its successive stages, viz.:—On or about the eighth day the vesicle should appear complete—its margin well defined—its centre somewhat depressed, and of a colour a shade darker than at its circumference. About the tenth day the vesicle should be surrounded by an efflorescence or areola, with some induration, or flag, beneath. This areola having remained stationary for a day or two, gradually fades away from the circumference towards the centre. The fluid contained in the vesicle, meantime, becomes more and more opaque, till during a period extending from the 14th to the 20th day, it shall have been converted into a crust, hard, glossy, and of a mahogany colour. When the crust has fallen off, there should be seen in the place it had occupied a somewhat circular depression, or cicatrix, at first of a dark red colour, but subsequently becoming of a clear white, and presenting over its surface a number of minute pits, arranged after the manner of those (to use a homely similitude) observed on the summit of a housewife's tumbler. A vesicle, on the contrary, which makes its appearance earlier than the eighth day, with a flattened edge, having a jagged irregular circumference, followed speedily by a scarlet efflorescence, without the characteristic induration, which is soon converted into a light-coloured scab, or rather thin crust, and after the falling off of which latter there can be seen no depression, or pitted cicatrix, must be considered a spurious vaccination, and therefore not to be relied upon.

In conclusion, and in support of their expressed opinion on this subject, the Directors would call attention to the fact, that in those kingdoms and states where vaccination has been most efficiently carried out by legislative enactments, the mortality from variola has been comparatively the least.

By Order,

Henry L. Dwyer, M.D., Secretary.

Edward B. Sinclair, Assistant Secretary.

DIRECTIONS FOR VACCINE INOCULATION.

FOR inoculation, the cow-pock infection, which, if dry, should be carefully softened with the smallest particle of cold water, taken upon the point of a lancet, is to be inserted in the arm by several very slight scratches, so as barely to draw blood; or, what generally succeeds better, apply the infected part of the glass, or ivory point, upon the scratches, and rub it thereon extremely well, so as to lodge the infection completely in the little wounds.

At

At the distance of about an inch on the same arm, the operation may be repeated, to lessen the risk of disappointment. The part inoculated should be left uncovered the remainder of the day, and kept during the whole course of the disease as free as possible from pressure, hurt, or irritation.

Not more than one patient, or two at the utmost, should be inoculated from each packet, and the greatest care should be taken to rub the infection perfectly into the scratches. Want of proper attention in this circumstance occasions many failures.

Dr. Jenner has very correctly observed, that a little practice in vaccine inoculation, attentively conducted, impresses on the mind the perfect character of the vaccine; and, therefore, when any material deviation arises from the course above described, of whatever kind it may be, common prudence points out the necessity of re-inoculation with vaccine infection of the most active kind.

Practitioners should take care that the lancet used for vaccination be perfectly clean, and therefore the preservation of infection on a lancet beyond the period of one day is improper, as it is apt to contract rust.

The most proper period for taking infection from a vesicle making its progress regularly, is from the seventh to the ninth day, and never after the efflorescence has made any considerable progress. Genuine vaccine fluid at this period is always limpid as the purest water, and that which is opaque ought, of course, to be rejected. When inserted immediately in its fluid state, from one patient to another, its effects are more certain than when used in a dry state.

Bad sores on the arm, and a collection of pus in the axilla, so rarely succeed vaccine inoculation, applied in the manner heretofore described, that local applications will seldom be found necessary. If the part be irritated, or suffer mechanical injury, and inflammation follow, poultices are not to be used, but the abraded vesicles are to be dressed with the prepared oxide of zinc ointment, over which pledgets, soaked lightly in the liquor plumbi subacetatis compositus, should be applied, and an aperient given to the patient. Should much restlessness and fever arise, the best remedies are the warm bath, small doses of Dover's and James's powders, with hydrargyrum cum creta, and perfect quietness of the limb.

CORRESPONDENCE RELATIVE TO ESTABLISHING A BRANCH OF THE VACCINE INSTITUTION FOR THE SOUTH SIDE OF DUBLIN.

Sir,

96, Leeson-street, Dublin, 28 February 1857.

I AM directed to inform you that the Board of Superintendence of Dublin Hospitals passed the following resolution yesterday:

"With reference to the letter of Colonel Larcom of the 26th instant, enclosing a communication from the Secretary of the Dublin Cow-Pock Institution, the Board beg to express their warm approval of the establishment of a branch of that institution for the south side of Dublin."

I herewith return the papers, and have the honour, &c.

(signed) Denis Phelan, Secretary.

Colonel Larcom, Under-Secretary.

Poor-Law Commissioners' Office,
Dublin, 6 March 1856.

Sir,

THE Commissioners for administering the laws for the relief of the poor in Ireland have had before them the accompanying communications addressed to you by Dr. Dwyer, secretary to the Dublin Cow-Pock Institution, and transmitted to this office for the observations of the Commissioners, and, in reply, the Commissioners desire to state, that they consider that the establishment of a branch of that institution in some populous neighbourhood at the south side of the city of Dublin would be attended with much benefit, and is well worthy of favourable consideration.

By order of the Commissioners,

To Colonel Larcom, R.E., &c. &c. &c.
Dublin Castle.

(signed) W. Stanley, Secretary.

Cow-Pock Institution, 67, Upper Sackville-street,
29 February 1856.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Directors of the Cow-Pock Institution to lay before you the following extract from their minute-book, and to express their hope of obtaining your favourable co-operation:

"The secretary having laid before the meeting a statement showing that the continuously increasing demands for vaccine lymph from various quarters upon the institution was likely to exceed their facilities of supply, the Directors deem it advisable to open a branch in some populous neighbourhood at the south side of the city, whereby they hope, by affording to the citizens a greater convenience for availing themselves of the benefit of vaccination, considerably to increase the number of inoculations, and thus be enabled to meet all demands ; “ Resolved,—That an application be made to His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, requesting him to recommend that a sum of 200*l.*, in addition to the ordinary grant, be given them to aid them in carrying out the above measure.”

I am further instructed to direct your attention to the following, which is a copy of a note appended to the Estimate for the year ending 31 March 1857 :—

“ N.B.—The gratuity (viz. 250*l.*) to the secretaries for their services for the year ending 31 March 1855, has been (4 May 1855) paid out of the balance, viz. 649*l.* 2*s.* 2½*d.*, appearing at foot of account of said year, leaving an available balance of 399*l.* 2*s.* 2½*d.*, which, should the Directors obtain a renewal of this lease, now on the eve of expiring, will be required to place the institution in a state of permanent repair, with enlarged accommodation for vaccination purposes, an estimate for which, amounting to 325*l.*, has been received.”

Lieut.-Colonel Larcom,
&c. &c.

I have, &c.

(1.)

Sir, Statute Law Commission, 6 January 1857.
In answer to the inquiries in your letter of the 2d, I have the honour to state—

1. The probable amount of the fixed expenses of this Commission for the year 1857-58 will be as follows:—

	£.	s.	d.
One paid Commissioner - - - - -	1,000	-	-
Secretary - - - - -	600	-	-
Clerk - - - - -	100	-	-
Messenger - - - - -	80	-	-
Housekeeper - - - - -	31	4	-
Contingencies - - - - -	100	-	-
£.	1,911	4	-

For these (I presume) a specific vote will be taken as in former years.

In addition to these will be the fees to be paid to the draftsmen employed by the Commission, to draw Consolidation Bills, and execute other works connected with the revision of the Statute Law, which fees will (I presume) be paid out of the Civil Contingencies Fund. The amount of such fees for the year ending 31 December 1856 was 1,590 l.; but much more extensive works have been undertaken this year; and I should think it probable that if the Commission continues in force, the fees for 1857-58 will amount to 5,000 l., though this can be little more than a conjecture.

2. The date of the Commission is 23d August 1854.

3. In the course of the past year, the Board have completed the revision of a consolidation of the Criminal Law in eight Bills, which were laid on the table of the House of Lords by the Lord Chancellor shortly before the end of last Session; they have also directed the preparation of consolidations of the Law of Real Property and of Mercantile Law; each of which subjects will include a considerable number of important Bills. Of these Bills several are completed by the draftsmen, and the others are in a forward state.

The Board have also caused a classification of the whole contents of the Statute Book to be commenced, chiefly for the purpose of facilitating the work of consolidation, but which will also be a useful work for other purposes; it is expected that this will be completed in about six months from the present time.

The Board have also made a Second Report to Her Majesty, dated 5 March 1856, which has been laid before Parliament.

4. For your further information, I beg leave to subjoin an extract from the Report which I forwarded to you this time last year in answer to similar inquiries.

5. With respect to the probable duration of the Commission, I can only repeat the statement which I made last year in the last paragraph of the following extract.

H. Waddington, Esq.,
Home Office.

I am, &c.
(signed) M. J. Brickdale,
Secretary.

EXTRACT from Letter, dated 9 January 1856.

“In the course of the past year, Bills for the consolidation of the Statute Law on several important subjects have been undertaken, including Criminal Law, the National Debt Acts, the Law of Masters and Servants, the Stamp Acts, the Law of Bills of Exchange, the Statutes of Limitation, the Law of Prisons, and some others of less extent.

“Of these Bills, some are completed, and others are in a forward state.

“The Board have also considered many questions connected with the improvement, as well of the existing Statute Law, as of current and future legislation.

“They have also made a Report to Her Majesty, dated 10th July 1855, which has been laid before Parliament.

“The Lord Chancellor has also had the assistance of the paid Commissioner, Mr. Bellen-den Ker, during the last Session, in examining and reporting on all the Law Bills brought into the House of Lords, and also in preparing or revising many of the Bills brought in by his Lordship.

“With respect to the probable duration of the labours of the Commission, I conceive that there is work for many years to come of the same nature as that already undertaken; but I believe it will depend on the circumstances which may occur in the course of next Session, whether the Lord Chancellor determines to carry on the present Board, or to remodel it.”

Sir,
Common Law Judicial Business Commission,
7, Stone-buildings, Lincoln's Inn, 6 January 1857.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 3d instant, requesting me “to prepare a statement of the probable sum required to defray the expenses of the Common Law Judicial Business Commission during the present year, with the date of its appointment, and the probable time required to complete the Inquiry, and the grounds on which the opinion as to its duration is formed.”

I beg

I beg to state, in reply, that the date of the Commission is the 3d of December 1856, and that a preliminary meeting only has been held, which was adjourned to the 7th of February next, in order to obtain returns of the official business transacted throughout England and Wales during the last 12 years. Until these returns are sent in, and the Commissioners have determined on the course they intend to adopt, to carry out the object of the Commission, I am unable to form any opinion either as to the duration or the expense of the Commission.

I have, &c.
(signed) W. H. Walton,
Secretary.

Horatio Waddington, Esq.

Exchequer Office, 7, Stone-buildings,
Lincoln's Inn, 6 January 18 57.

Dear Waddington,
I really cannot give a more decided official answer than the enclosed.

My private opinion is, that if I can only obtain the returns (which are numerous) in time, six months or less would suffice. The printing of forms only has delayed me much.

I have a clerk and messenger at two guineas a-week; the printing will be trifling.

Several towns, Bristol, Birmingham, and probably Manchester and others, will claim to have assizes held for them at these towns. Birmingham will ask to be heard.

The alteration of the circuits, and a third assize, will require consideration, but you may depend on my doing all I can to expedite matters.

I have, as yet, only one circuit return in from North Wales.

Yours, &c.
(signed) W. H. Walton.

H. Waddington, Esq.

(3.)

Sir,

7 Lancaster-place, 12 January 1857.

I AM directed by Her Majesty's Commissioners for inquiring into the Process, &c., in the Superior Courts of Common Law, to return the following answers to your letter of 2d instant:

1. The probable expenses of the Commission, from 31 March 1857 to 31 March 1858, will be—

	£.	s.	d.
Current expenses - - - - -	90	-	-
Salary of secretary - - - - -	200	-	-
	£.	290	- -

Towards this amount there will be in my hands, on the 1st April 1857, about 65*l.*, being the balance of the amount granted last year for the Commission to 31 March 1857. The probable expenses therefore, from 31 March 1857 to 31 March 1858, will be 225*l.* The sum of 100*l.* will be due to me on 31 March 1857, as salary for the preceding six months but this sum was voted last year by the House of Commons.

2. The date of the appointment of the Commission is 13 May 1850.

3. The Commissioners have had under their consideration the Master's Offices, Judges Chambers, costs, rotation of writs of summons, replevin, real actions, and the extension of the equitable jurisdiction now given to the superior courts of common law. Letters have been sent out to the principle firms of solicitors, requesting suggestions as to the practice and procedure in the superior courts.

4. As to the probable time which it will take to complete the inquiry, and the grounds on which the opinion as to the probable duration is fixed, I am directed to answer that no time can be fixed for the probable duration of the Commission.

The subject upon which the Commissioners were authorised to report was very extensive and complicated. There are still some portions of it untouched. The Commissioners have thought it desirable to observe the practical effect of the enactments (15 & 16 Vict. c. 76, and 17 & 18 Vict. c. 125), founded upon their former reports, before proceeding to report further.

To H. Waddington, esq.
Home Office.

I am &c.
(signed) H. J. Holland, Secretary, &c.

(4.)

Sir,

32, Abingdon-street, 6 January 1857.

In obedience to a letter dated the 2d inst., addressed to me by Mr. Waddington, I have the honour to state for your information, that I am not aware of any sum being required during the current year, to defray the expenses of the Registration of Title Commission, beyond a proportion of the salaries, of which a detailed account was furnished by me last year, and the usual small incidental expenses.

It is expected that the Commissioners will complete their inquiry within a short period, for they are now using their best exertions to that end; and considerable progress has been made in the preparation of their report, with the view, if possible, of submitting it to Parliament upon, or soon after the commencement of the Session. At the same time the nature of the subject is such, and unexpected difficulties may so possibly arise, that it cannot be assumed with certainty that more time than is at present calculated upon will not be required for the termination of the inquiry.

The Commission dates from 18th January 1854.

I have, &c.

The Right Hon. Sir George Grey, Bart.,

(signed) G. W. Sanders.

(5.)

Non-Parochial Register's Commission General Register Office,
Somerset House, 13 January 1857.

Sir,

I AM desired by the Commissioners for inquiring into the state, custody, and authenticity of certain non-parochial registers, to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 3rd instant, and to transmit, in conformity with the directions of Secretary Sir G. Grey, a statement of the probable sum which will be required to defray the expenses of the Commission during the present year.

The date of the appointment of the Commission is 1st January 1857; and with reference to the probable time which it will take to complete the inquiry, I am to inform you that the functions of the Commissioners, within the terms of the Commission, will be completed on or before the 1st January 1858. It is proper to observe, however, that upon the former occasion of the appointment of a Commission with similar objects, the Commissioners were continued for a stated time by Act of Parliament, for certain specific purposes, and should the same course be taken with reference to the present Commission, the duties of the Commissioners will not cease until an Act of Parliament shall have been obtained, and the registers received by them formally transferred under its provisions to the custody of the Registrar General.

I have, &c.

(signed) Jas. T. Hamick,
Secretary.

H. Waddington, Esq., Home Office.

Non-Parochial Register's Commission,
General Register's Office, Somerset House,
12 January, 1857.

(6.)

Sir,

8, Manor-place, Edinburgh, 8th January 1857.

In reply to your communication of the 3rd instant, requesting me to transmit to you as soon as possible a statement of the probable sum, if any, which will be required to defray the expenses of the Lunatic Asylums (Scotland) Commission of Inquiry during the

the present year, accompanied by a statement of the date of its appointment, of the progress which the Commissioners have made in the inquiry entrusted to them during the past year, of the probable time which it will take to complete the inquiry, and of the grounds on which the opinion as to the probable duration of the Commission is based: I am instructed by the Royal Lunacy Commissioners to state, that a sum of 50*l.* (fifty pounds) in addition to the 1,000*l.* already received by me, will probably be required to cover the remaining expenses of the Commission.

The Commission was appointed 3rd April 1855.

The expenditure in carrying out the objects of the Commission has been, up to this date, 964*l.* 5*s.* 7½*d.*

I beg to refer you to the enclosed statement of particulars.

I cannot exactly state the sum that may yet be required for the purposes of the Commission, as there are some claims which may possibly be made against it, or may otherwise be defrayed; but excepting these, I do not see that any further outlay can possibly exceed 50*l.* in addition to what I have on hand. Of course this sum does not include the expense of printing, which will be tolerably heavy, as the report will probably extend to 700 pages.

In reference to the progress which the Commissioners have made in the inquiry entrusted to them, I am further instructed to state that the Report of the Commissioners is now in the press; that the Commissioners were in hopes it would have been printed by this time, but that unforeseen delay has occurred, partly owing to the time consumed in sending proofs to the English Commissioners and waiting for their approval, and partly to the slow manner in which the printing proceeds, arising from causes which apparently cannot be obviated. The Commissioners, however, have every reason to believe that a few weeks will see their labours concluded.

I am, &c.

Sir,

In reply to your letter of the 26th instant, I am instructed by the Commissioners to state, that as the secretary was nominated in the Commission, they did not consider it to come within their functions, when forming an estimate of the sums required for its execution, to consider his remuneration; they, therefore, desire to refer this matter to the Home Office.

I am further instructed to mention to you, that instead of 50*l.*, 100*l.* additional will yet be required for the purposes of the Commission, unforeseen expenses in reference to the reports having occurred.

I am, &c.

(7.)

Office of Lunatic Asylums Commissioners (Ireland),
6, Ely-place, Dublin, 15 January 1857.

Sir,

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 3d instant, in which you state that you have been directed by Secretary Sir George Grey to apply to me for a "statement of the probable sum, if any, which will be required to defray the expenses of the Lunatic Asylums (Ireland) Commission of Inquiry during the present year, accompanied by a statement of the date of its appointment, of the progress which the Commissioners have made in the inquiry entrusted to them since the commencement of the Commission; of the probable time which it will take to complete the inquiry; and of the grounds on which the opinion as to the probable duration of the Commission is based."

Having duly laid your communication before the Commissioners at their last meeting, I am directed to make the following statements, in reply thereto :

The Royal Commission bears date the 8th October 1856, and the first meeting of the Commissioners was held on the 16th of that month. Since then 32 meetings of the Commissioners have taken place at their offices in Dublin, 14 of which meetings were principally occupied in the examination of witnesses, the remainder being devoted to the preparation of various forms of returns, and to the general business of the Commission.

Besides the meetings thus held in Dublin, at which, in nearly every instance, all the Commissioners attended, quorums of the body visited, for the purpose of inspection, a considerable number of institutions in which insane persons were confined, in order to ascertain by personal observation their fitness for the reception of such inmates.

The following is a list of the institutions thus inspected:—

1. Dundrum Central Criminal Asylum.
2. Thirteen district asylums; viz. Armagh, Ballinasloe, Belfast, Carlow, Cork, Killarney, Kilkenny, Limerick, Londonderry, Maryborough, Mullingar, Omagh, and Richmond.
3. Fourteen gaols; Kilmainham, Grangegorman, Richmond (Bridewell), Kilkenny, Carlow, Belfast, Londonderry, Dundalk, Omagh, Armagh, Cork (county and city), and Limerick (county and city).
4. Fourteen union workhouses; viz. North Dublin, South Dublin, Carlow, Belfast, Derry, Armagh, Dundalk, Omagh, Cork, Killarney, Limerick, Athlone, Ballinasloe, and Mullingar.
5. St. Patrick's Hospital and Blomfield Retreat, both charitable asylums for the insane.
6. The Hardwicke Lunatic Cells of the Dublin House of Industry.
7. Twelve licensed houses; viz. Eagle Lodge, Farnham House, Hartfield Retreat, Hampstead House, Lisle House, Bellevue, Jamestown, Annsbrook, Woodville, Bushy Park, Citadella, and Lindville.

The correspondence of the office, to the present date, amounts to 1,207 letters and circulars addressed to managers of district asylums, owners of licensed houses, clerks of unions, governors of gaols, medical officers of dispensary districts, and miscellaneous letters. The answers to the above, hitherto received, amount to 769. Besides the foregoing, 2,000 forms of returns have been issued to the constabulary throughout Ireland, through the office of the Inspector-general of Constabulary, with a view to ascertaining the numbers and condition of insane persons at large, or not under medical treatment.

It is not easy, at this stage of the Inquiry, to estimate the probable time which it will take to complete the investigation, as any conjecture now formed may be materially affected by circumstances arising during the progress of the Commission.

The Commissioners, however, hope to be enabled to submit their report to Her Majesty before the period at which the Parliamentary Session usually closes, but not much earlier. The grounds on which this opinion is based are the following:—

In the first place, the Commissioners contemplate holding a formal investigation at each of the district asylums, 16 in number, so as to give the members of the Boards of Governors and others the opportunities of examination before them, and to elicit such facts, in connexion with the working of the present system, as can be best arrived at by local inquiry. It may also become necessary to examine into matters connected with other institutions in which insane persons are now received, in a similar manner; and, in any case, this part of the Commissioners' duties will occupy a considerable time.

Secondly, the arrangement and examination of the numerous returns, several of which are of a complex character, will impose a good deal of labour on the secretary and his assistants, and cannot be completed without a proportionate delay.

Thirdly, the branch of the Inquiry entrusted to the Commissioners having reference to the present state of the law respecting lunatics and lunatic asylums in Ireland, will also require their attentive consideration.

Assuming that the Commissioners will be enabled to complete their investigation within the period already indicated, and that no unforeseen circumstance shall occur to protract it, they consider that a sum of 1,200 £. will be sufficient to defray the expenses of the Commission from the present date to the completion of the Inquiry, exclusive, however, of such amount as the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury may fix as the remuneration for the secretary's services.

H. Waddington, Esq.

EXTRACT from a Letter addressed to the Hon. Secretary of State by the Secretary to the Endowed Schools (Ireland) Commission.

Endowed Schools (Ireland) Commission,
Dublin Castle, 22 January 1857.

Sir,

I HAVE laid before Her Majesty's Commissioners for Inquiring into Endowed Schools in Ireland your communication of the 2d instant, requiring "a statement of the probable sum, if any, which would be required to defray the expenses of the Endowed Schools (Ireland) Commission of Inquiry during the present year, accompanied by a statement of the date of its appointment, of the progress which the Commissioners have made in the inquiry entrusted to them during the past year, of the probable time it will take to complete the inquiry, and of the grounds on which the opinion as to the probable duration of the Commission is based."

I am directed by the Commissioners to state, in reply, that their Commission bears date the 14th of November 1854.

The powers and duties of the Commissioners were enlarged by stat. 18 & 19 Vict. c. 59; and by letters patent, bearing date the 6th of October 1855 and 17th May 1856, the duration of the Commission has been extended to the 1st of February 1857.

With respect to the progress that the Commissioners have made in their inquiry during the year 1856, I have to state that the Assistant Commissioners (four in number), appointed under the provisions of stat. 18 & 19 Vict. c. 59, were engaged in inspecting upwards of 1,300 schools, and inquiring as to above 800 endowments in the several counties, and have now completed their inspections and inquiries as to all the schools and endowments under the jurisdiction of the Commissioners.

The Government accountant, selected by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant to examine, under the directions of the Commissioners, and report with respect to the several accounts of endowed schools, and of the Boards having charge of schools, completed his investigations in the month of December 1856, and has resumed his duties in the department of the public service to which he is attached.

The inspector of estates, selected by the Lord Lieutenant on the 17th of April 1856, under the authority of your letter of the 28th of January 1856, was engaged from the period of his appointment to the close of the year in conducting the several inspections directed by the Commissioners, and he has now completed all his inspections.

The Commissioners held some public courts in the Council Chamber, Dublin Castle, to finish some inquiries commenced in 1855, and they have completed all the evidence they propose to take, and have had the entire of the evidence taken at their courts printed, so as to be ready to present with their report.

During the early part of the year the Commissioners were engaged in directing the Assistant-Commissioners, the inspector of estates, the Government accountant, the secretary, and assistant-secretaries, in the discharge of their respective duties.

As the several inquiries and investigations which they had directed were not sufficiently advanced until near the close of the year, the Commissioners were not able until then to commence the consideration of the draft of their report.

They devoted considerable time to the consideration of several plans and suggestions for a draft report, and, on the 17th instant, a series of resolutions were passed by a majority of the Commissioners as the basis of a report.

The Commissioners were occupied in the despatch of business at their office in Dublin Castle, and at the public courts held by them on 52 days during the year 1856.

The secretary and assistant-secretaries were engaged in conducting the correspondence with the assistant-commissioners, and with persons interested in schools and endowments, and in the preparation of tabular returns, containing a digest of the information contained in the returns of masters and trustees, and in the reports of the assistant-commissioners. The preparation of these tables, which will occupy a considerable volume, is in a forward state, being nearly all in type, but none of the tables were printed off before the close of the year.

As to the probable time which it will take to complete the inquiries of the Commissioners, I am directed to state, that, from the extent of evidence taken by the Commissioners, the amount of information in the tabular returns, and the consequently extended nature of the subjects to be treated of, and from the basis of the report not having been decided upon until the 17th of the present month, the Commissioners do not anticipate that they can have their report, and the tables which are to accompany it, completed before the 14th of May next.

The secretary and some of the assistant-secretaries and clerks will be engaged in superintending the printing of the tables, and winding up the business of the Commission, until the 1st of July next.

The estimated expenses of the Commission for the present year will amount to 1,171 £, as appears by the schedule annexed.

Decimal Coinage Commission, 11 Manchester Buildings,
13 January 1857.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Commissioners of Decimal Coinage to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 2d of January, in which you communicate the wishes of Secretary Sir George Grey, that there should be transmitted to him, as soon as possible, a statement of the probable expenses of the Commission during the present year, together with a statement of the date of its appointment, and of the progress which the Commissioners have made in the inquiry, and the probable time of its duration.

The Commissioners were appointed by letters patent, dated 1st November 1855.

The first meeting for the prosecution of the inquiry was held on the 6th of February 1856.

From that time until the 2d of May meetings of the Commission were regularly held, various papers of queries were prepared and circulated at home, and an elaborate paper of queries was prepared and circulated in foreign countries which possess a decimal coinage through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. Numerous answers to these queries, some of great value, and prepared with great care, have been received.

The last answer to the queries circulated in foreign countries, viz., that from Her Majesty's Ambassador at Paris was transmitted to the Commissioners, in a letter from Lord Monteagle, dated the 26th August 1856.

On the 7th of May the examination of witnesses was commenced, and was continued until the 18th June 1856. The meetings of the Commission were then discontinued. They will be resumed forthwith, and the course of proceedings will then be determined. It is impossible to speak with confidence of the probable duration of the inquiry, further than that the Commissioners have no doubt that they will be able to present a report to Her Majesty before the end of the Session of Parliament.

The expenses of the Decimal Coinage Commission will be the cost of the office occupied in Manchester-buildings; the salary of the secretary and assistant-secretary, which have not yet been fixed by the Chancellor of the Exchequer; the salary of the office-keeper and messenger, which has been fixed at 100*l.* a-year, which will in future be paid by the Paymaster-general; stationery and small stores supplied by the Stationery-Office and Board of Works; and the following, which are the only payments which will be paid by the Commission; viz., wages of charwoman, fuel, petty expenses, expenses of witnesses, &c. These will certainly be under 100*l.*

I am, &c.

H. Waddington, esq.

(signed) Archibald Smith, Secretary.

National Gallery Site Commission, 17, Great Queen-street, Westminster, 12 February 1857.

Sir,

In reply to your letter of 3d February, inquiring as to the probable expenses and duration of this Commission, I am directed to inform you that the only outlay likely to be incurred will be the payment of the secretary and a few professional witnesses and attendants, besides some small miscellaneous charges incident upon such investigations.

The duration of the Commission must, I am instructed to remark, depend mainly upon the nature of the evidence and the assiduity of the Commissioners; but the Secretary of State may be assured that there will be no unnecessary delay in bringing the inquiry to a close.

I have, &c.

(signed) H. Montague Butler,
Secretary.

Note.—To the above charges must be added the expense of printing and publishing the specifications of the Patents, the drawings accompanying the specifications, the printing of the Indexes of Patents, and the purchase of scientific books of reference for the Public Library at the Patent Office, in accordance with the provisions of the said Act, amounting to about 54,000 l. for the year 1857–8 (18,000 l. for printing, 25,600 l. for lithographic drawings, 10,000 l. for paper and 200 l. for books), the cost of which will be provided for in the Estimate for Stationery, Printing, &c. This is not, however, a charge upon the Public Funds; the receipts from Stamp Duties, per Act 16 Vict. c. 5 (formerly fees to meet the expenses of the Patent Office) are estimated for the current year (1857) to produce over 101,000 l., to which may be added the surplus income of 1856, amounting to 3,648 l., as shown by the Report to Parliament of the Commissioners of Patents for that year; whereas, on the other hand, the charges detailed in the above estimate will not exceed 91,056 l. Of the above-mentioned sum of 54,000 l., 14,000 l. is estimated as the cost of printing the specifications of the current year, and of the Books for the Library, and 40,000 l. as the cost of printing a large number of the specifications enrolled previously to the Act of 1852. Great progress has been made in this latter work, and it is intended that the whole (upwards of 14,000 specifications) shall be completed within the ensuing year (1858).

BRITISH NORTH AMERICA; EXPLORING EXPEDITION.

AN ESTIMATE of the Sum proposed to be Voted in the year 1857, ending 31 March 1858, towards defraying the COST of an EXPEDITION for the Purpose of Exploring that Region of BRITISH NORTH AMERICA which lies along the Parallels of 49° and 53° North Latitude, and from 100° to 115° West Longitude.

Five Thousand Pounds.

Note.—It is proposed to spread the Expenditure of the Grant over two years; viz. 3,000*l.* the first year, and 2,000*l.* the second. An explanatory letter is subjoined.

Sir,

Downing-street, 22 January 1857.

I AM directed by Mr. Secretary Labouchere to transmit to you the copy of a letter which he has received from the President of the Royal Geographical Society, recommending to Her Majesty's Government a plan for the exploration of that region of British North America which lies along the parallels of 49° and 53° north latitude, and from 100° to 115° west longitude. Considering that the region here referred to is supposed to contain a considerable extent of fertile soil, and that in the rapid progress of British North America and the United States public attention is beginning to be directed towards it, while the information respecting it hitherto possessed is extremely scanty, and rests for the most part upon very imperfect authority, Mr. Labouchere considers that the proposed plan is deserving of favourable consideration, and he thinks that there may be some advantage in obtaining trustworthy information through an expedition which, although countenanced and assisted by Her Majesty's Government, would not bear a political or commercial character, being mainly directed to scientific objects, and of which the leader would be personally uninterested in the discussions which have arisen in respect to a large portion of the territory to be traversed by the expedition. If their Lordships should be disposed to concur in the propriety of assisting the proposed expedition by a grant of public money, it will be a matter of further consideration whether the opportunity might not be taken for acquiring further knowledge as to the district which lies immediately west of Lake Superior, and between it and the Lake of the Woods. It appears to be a matter of considerable doubt whether the route usually taken by the officers and servants of the Hudson's Bay Company does not lie through a more difficult country than that near to the line of frontier between British America and the United States; and as this question may before long assume much public interest, it would seem desirable to take so favourable an opportunity for obtaining a survey both of the line now usually taken, and of such other line to the southward as might be selected on the spot by the expedition.

13th January 1857.

The Estimate transmitted herewith must of course be liable to some variation in case that on further consideration the plan of the expedition should be modified, but Mr. Labouchere is led to believe that the expenses will not materially exceed the rate here set down, and in case he should learn that the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury are disposed to entertain the plan he will communicate further with the Geographical Society and with Mr. Palliser, and, if necessary, will cause an amended estimate to be laid before their Lordships. Mr. Labouchere is informed that it is a matter of importance with a view to the coming season, that an early decision should be come to in respect to this measure.

Note.—A sum of 40,000 l. was voted for this Service last year, and a like sum in 1855; and a paper printed with the Estimate of 1855 shows the grounds upon which it was submitted to Parliament.

The annexed correspondence shows that information has been called for from the Cape:

Sir, Downing-street, 22 January 1857.

I am directed by Mr. Secretary Labouchere to transmit to you herewith, with a view to its insertion in Class VII. of the Estimates for Civil Services, an estimate of the amount required to promote the civilisation of the Native Tribes in South Africa.

I am desired at the same time to enclose, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury, the accompanying copy of a despatch to the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, expressive of Mr. Labouchere's wish that it may be found practicable to provide for the important objects of this vote with a smaller amount next year, and calling for a report of the results of the expenditure up to the present time.

I am, &c.
(signed) Herman Merivale.

Sir C. Trevelyan.

Sir,

Downing-street, January 1857.

With reference to your despatch, No. 7, of the 22d December 1854, containing your plans for conciliating the good will and promoting the civilisation of the Kafir Tribes, and stating that for its execution an annual aid of 40,000 l. would be required from Great Britain; but that in about three years the amount might be reduced, and afterwards be annually diminished, I have to state, that Parliament has accordingly granted 40,000 l. in each of the two financial years ending on the 31st March 1856 and 1857, and that application will be made for the like amount for the approaching financial year.

This liberal assistance having been readily voted by Parliament, I hope that it may be in your power to report that a smaller amount will suffice in the next ensuing year. I shall also be glad to receive, for the further information of Her Majesty's Government and of Parliament, a general account of the use which has been made of the grants up to the present time, and of the results derived therefrom.

I have, &c.

H. Labouchere.

The following letter from the Admiralty shows the state of the works at the present time.

Sir,

Admiralty, 6 May 1857.

I AM commanded by my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty to request you will state to the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury that my Lords having had under their consideration reports from Captain Vetch, of the Harbour Department, Captain Washington, their Lordships' Hydrographer, and Mr. Walker, the Engineer, on the subject of Spurn Point, at the mouth of the Humber, have come to the conclusion that it is not desirable, as far as they can form an opinion at present, to undertake any further works of consequence on the narrow slip of land or shingle which reaches from the mainland to the island on which the lighthouse is placed.

The conclusion at which they have arrived is, that the sea may probably wash up sand and shingle, as it has done heretofore, so as to maintain the barrier between the sea and the Humber; and that, although it may perhaps be possible, by some small works in wattling, or by sowing the seeds of bent grass, to promote the formation of a solid bank, they do not consider it advisable to undertake any permanent work, which, to be of any value, must entail an enormous expenditure, and might not be more effectual than the bank of shingle in its present state.

With regard to the island on which the lighthouse stands, it will be for the Trinity House to take such measures as the Elder Brethren may deem necessary for preventing the foundations of that structure being washed away, or endangered by any further diminution of the island. And my Lords will consider the suggestions of Mr. Walker as to the measures, if any, that he may recommend, for giving a direction to the accumulation of sand and shingle.

With reference to the inquiry in your letter of the 25th of March last, as to the sum required to be voted in the ensuing Session to meet the expenses of the works at the Spurn, my Lords desire me to state that if no breach take place Five hundred pounds will be sufficient to meet the current expenses.

JAMES WILSON.

THE following Correspondence, in continuation of Papers already before Parliament, shows the steps taken to bring this long pending question to a settlement.

Sir,

Audit Office, 8 April 1856.

IN our Report of 17 October 1851, on the account of the East India Company relating to the war in China, we observed that the ordinary and extraordinary expense of the troops and steamers had been indiscriminately blended, and that the accounts and information before us did not afford the means of separating the one from the other.

In order, however, to arrive at the nearest estimate which can be made of what would have been the ordinary cost to the Company of their troops employed in China, had they remained in India, we have adopted, as the only means of effecting this object, a calculation of the ordinary pay and allowances of the several corps thus employed, founded on the Company's printed regulations.

The result of the calculation is shown in the accompanying statement, which we now submit as the nearest approach which can be made to an accurate account without much information which is not at present in our possession.

According to this estimate, the ordinary expense of the troops on the Company's establishment, serving in China to the end of the war, would be - - - £. 520,568

And the similar expense from the conclusion of the peace to the evacuation of Chusan would be - - 154,946

Making a total of - - - - - £. 675,514

With regard to the East India Company's steamers, we have not the same data for making any approximate estimate of the ordinary as distinguished from the extraordinary expenses, and we can only state that the total charge which we find in the accounts relating to it is 356,881*l.*, of which 130,895*l.* is for the value of two steamers which were lost, and for the allowance agreed upon for wear and tear of the vessels, leaving 225,986*l.* for expenses both ordinary and extraordinary.

CORRESPONDENCE RELATING TO

The estimate which we have the honour to submit, even if taken as a basis for the settlement of the accounts upon which the Company's present claim is founded, will not finally close the account of all transactions between the East India Company and Her Majesty's Government relating to the war in China; as it appears that there are still open accounts for the years subsequent to 1847-48, to which date only the present accounts extend.

ESTIMATE of the Ordinary Expenses of the several CORPS belonging to the EAST INDIA COMPANY'S ESTABLISHMENTS employed in China during the War from 1840 to 1843, and after the Conclusion of Peace to the Evacuation of Chusan in July 1846.

From the Conclusion of Peace to the Evacuation of Chusan:
Full strength of regiments on the Company's establishment	193,682
Allowance for casual reductions - - - - -	38,736
		154,946
Total Ordinary Expense of Troops - - - £.		154,946

Taking into consideration the extremely uncertain distinction between ordinary and extraordinary expense for steamers, 700,000 l. may perhaps be deemed a reasonable sum to assume as the ordinary expense of troops and steamers together.

TREASURY MINUTE, 18 April 1856.

My Lords advert to their Minute, dated 22d November 1853, respecting the settlement of the account of the expenditure of the China War, and the payment of the large balance due to Her Majesty's Government by the East India Company on account of the advances made in this country for the recruiting and other charges of Her Majesty's Forces serving in India, together with a correspondence which has since taken place on the subject.

The account of the expenditure connected with the China War was examined in the year 1851 by Commissary-general Sir Edward Coffin and Mr. Otho Hamilton, one of the inspectors of the Audit Office, and was reported upon by them in detail on the 17th October in that year; and the same officers have now, by the directions of this Board, furnished a statement, compiled from the best data at their disposal, of the result of the account according to the principle of settlement maintained by Her Majesty's Government, viz., that the ordinary expenses of the expedition are chargeable to the East India Company, and the extraordinary to Her Majesty's Government, and that the sums received from the Government of China on the public account should be deducted pro rata from both charges.

According to this statement, the ordinary expenditure of the expeditionary force was about 700,000 l., to which must be added 256 l. for an error of account, making together 700,256 l.; but from this must be deducted 461,697 l., the proportion of the sum received from the Chinese Government attributable to the ordinary expense of the expedition, and 22,717 l., ordinary pay of Indian officers already credited by the East India Company to Her Majesty's Government, making together 484,414 l., and leaving a balance of 215,842 l. payable by the East India Company.

Besides being liable for a portion of the expenditure of the China War, the East India Company undertook, at the request of this Board, to advance the funds required for carrying on the war, in part liquidation of which various payments have been made on account, leaving a balance claimed by the East India Company amounting to 806,535 l.; and deducting from this the sum of 215,842 l. due by the Company as above, there remains a balance of 590,693 l. payable by Her Majesty's Government to the East India Company.

On the other hand, a still larger sum has been advanced by Her Majesty's Government for the recruiting and other charges of Her Majesty's Forces serving in India, in excess of what has accrued from the quarterly payments made by the East India Company on account; and provided those periodical payments, amounting to 250,000 l. per annum, are regularly made, my Lords will be prepared to suspend their demand on the East India Company for any portion of the excess until an estimate can be conveniently laid before Parliament for the sum of 590,693 l. due to the East India Company in reference to the China War. Both accounts will then be credited with that amount, and, while the account of the China War will be entirely closed, the balance due by the East India Company on the recruiting account in excess of the quarterly advances will be reduced by an equivalent amount.

Transmit a copy of this Minute to the Commissioners for the Affairs of India, in continuation of the letter from this Board, dated 16th February last, and request that they will inform my Lords whether the Court of Directors acquiesce in the proposed settlement.

Write to Sir E. Coffin and Mr. Hamilton, and convey to them the thanks of this Board for the manner in which they have discharged the duty of examining and reporting on the account of the expenditure of the China War.

Also state that as Sir E. Coffin received his full pay as Commissary-general during the period he was employed upon this duty, my Lords have only to direct that a payment of 20 l. be made to him for defraying the expenses caused by his having been recently summoned to London in connexion with this duty; and they are pleased to direct a payment of 100 l. to be made to Mr. O. Hamilton, as a special mark of the approbation of this Board.

Write accordingly to the Paymaster-general, and desire that he will charge the sums in question to Civil Contingencies.

(signed) C. E. Trevelyan.

Sir,

India Board, 15 May 1856.

WITH reference to your letter of the 21st ultimo, transmitting copy of a Minute of the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury on the account with the East India Company, relating to the Expedition to China, I am directed to request that you will communicate to their Lordships the desire of the Court of Directors to be favoured with a copy of the account upon which the above-mentioned Minute is founded.

Sir,

India Board, 7 July 1856.

I AM directed by the Commissioners for the Affairs of India to transmit, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, copy of a letter which they have received from the Court of Directors of the East India Company, and to express their satisfaction that the long-pending account between the Crown and the Company therein referred to will thus have been brought to a settlement.

Sir C. E. Trevelyan, K.C.B.,
&c. &c. &c.

I have, &c.
(signed) George Clerk.

Sir,

East India House, 3 July 1856.

1. I HAVE received and laid before the Court of Directors of the East India Company Mr. Leach's letter, dated the 24th ultimo, and its enclosure, being the report of Sir E. Coffin and Mr. O. Hamilton, furnished to the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury, on the 8th of April last, containing the data on which the proposal was based for the settlement of the account of the expenditure of the China War.

2. The Court observe that the account has been founded on estimate based on the principle of distinguishing between the ordinary and extraordinary expenses of the war.

3. While the Court continue of the opinion which they have throughout maintained, that the principle of division of expenditure is opposed to their original agreement with Her Majesty's Government, they are unwilling to prolong the correspondence which has already taken place on this subject; and they are therefore prepared to admit the adjustment of the account by receiving credit for the sum of 590,693 l., as proposed by the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury.

4. The accounts for the expenses incurred by the East India Company on behalf of Her Majesty's Government in China for years subsequent to 1847-48 are being prepared, and will shortly be rendered to the Lords of the Treasury.

The Secretary, India Board.

I have, &c.
